Coolidge Eulogizes
Geo. Washington.

President Coolidge's speech was broadcast through a hook-up of forty radio stations to every part of North America and was relayed around the world when rebroadcast to Europe and Asia on short wave lengths. Details of reception in Europe on page 7.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The greatest tribute to George Washington in the memory of living men was paid today by the President of the nation he founded. Speaking in the chamber of the house of representatives in the presence of the Vice-President, senate and house, the Supreme court, the cabinet, foreign ambassadors and ministers and other distinguished guests and with the nation listening in on the radio, President Coolidge impressively acknowledged our debt to the leader of the revolution and first President of the republic.

"He was the directing spirit without which there would have been no independence, no union, no constitution, and no republic," Mr. Coolidge said.

President Coolidge's speech was received with a prolonged and unanimous applause.

A great wave of applause swept the chamber as men and women felt the weight of that striking sentence, reverberating into twenty words the significance of Washington to the American people.

The President paused in his reading, looked about as if surprised at the effect of his utterance and stole a glance at Mrs. Coolidge in the executive gallery. Chief Justice Taft, once President himself, and the venerable Justice Holmes, seated directly in front of Mr. Coolidge, and Vice-President Dawes and Speaker Lapham on the dais behind were won over by the applause, but with no more enthusiasm than Sir Ernest Howard, the British ambassador.

The twenty word epitome was read into a peroration that sketched in broad, swift strokes the portrait of Washington as soldier and statesman.

Unrived in Warfare.

"An example of generalship, exceeding over a series of years from the days of Boston to the fall of Yorktown, the commander-in-chief of the continental armies holds a position that is unrivaled in the history of warfare," Mr. Coolidge said. "He never failed from the day he modestly undertook the tremendous task of leading a revolution to the day with equal modesty surrendered his commission to the representatives of the independent colonies. He triumphed over a people in a height of their glory who had acknowledged no victor for 700 years.

Washington has come to personify the American republic. He presided over the convention that framed our constitution. The weight of his name was the deciding factor in securing its adoption by the states. His results could never have been had it not been recognized he would be the first President.

DEVER IS READY; GIVES OUTLINE OF PLATFORM

FUTURE NEEDS OF CITY HIS MAIN POINT.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Mayor Dever is ready for the fight. He smiled last night as he sat in his Kenmore avenue home and listened to the primary returns over the radio. There was a glint of the joy of battle in his eyes.

"What kind of a campaign will you make?" he was asked.

"I never can tell just what I am going to say until I get on my feet," was the reply. "My present inclination is not to dwell on the depressing history of the past, but on present opportunities and future needs of Chicago."

"Chicago is good enough to be saved."

"I would like to talk about achievements and possibilities, let the people know what the traction situation is, just how our material growth might be increased or retarded, how our finances have been straightened out, tell them of the great work of our departments and bring them into a deeper interest in the affairs of government."

publican vote for mayor, only 418,000 were cast in the Republican primaries for city clerk and 439,436 for treasurer. This was taken by the Democratic organization, which then decided the wings of Mayor Dever that Democrats stay in their own primaries, great numbers of them crossed over to vote for Bill, many of them because they deemed him the easier man for Dever to beat.

The vote on minor Republican candidates was:

Clerk—Smith, 229,114; Hoff, 188,360.

Treasurer—Peterson, 281,078; Elmore, 189,358.

Dever Ticked Unopposed.

Mayor Dever's slate on minor offices had no opposition, the counting except for Dever. The ticket will be:

For mayor—William E. Dever.

For city clerk—Al F. Gorman.

For treasurer—M. S. Szymczak.

Mr. Szymczak, who is a professor of philosophy and ethics, got 106,290, and Dennis F. Considine had 37,792.

The Democrats analyzed the figures last night as evidence that Dever will be reelected in the April 5 election. Their deductions that Thompson and the Crowe-Galpin organization extended itself to almost its limit in the primaries and that the vote Bill got yesterday is fairly close to his maximum strength.

Politicians in general figured that at least 400,000 Democratic votes were polled yesterday by Thompson. In a dozen wards Democratic aldermen had no opposition at the polls to keep the battles battalions at home, and the theory is that this materially kept the Democratic vote down, Dever being without a fight in his party as thousands leaped the fence to help make Bill the Republican nominee.

Democratic Council Elected.

The Democrats point out that despite the phenomenal vote in the Republican mayoralty primaries, the Democratic aldermen are still reelected yesterday or first, the aldermanic ballot being separate and non-partisan.

Likewise the Democrats point out Dever four years ago rolled up 390,413 votes in the April election, which is nearly 50,000 more than Thompson got in the Republican primaries yesterday, while the April election four years ago had a total vote of 716,000 as against yesterday's primaries total of 659,000, the Dever vote yesterday thus being 4,000 more than the April vote, having no fight, while Thompson came close to mustering his full strength.

They argue that many Democrats who supported Bill in the primaries will vote for Dever in April, and that the appeal to Republicans and Democrats to support the mayor on a non-partisan basis will go strong, while the April vote was much smaller than it was four years ago when the campaigning was rather too gentle, mainly to stir up much of an interest.

Litsinger Delays Comment.

Litsinger headquarters withheld comment on the outcome and the candidate delayed making a statement. The furious factional battle between the Republicans and the inner history that was divvied by each side concerning the other, the great bags of laundry that were hung out the line and the furious bombardment of personal attacks, the battle maintained, has left a claim that will be unable to be closed. How far this resent and bitterness will make itself felt is purely conjectural in this era of flip-flop, factional politicians, have sometimes displayed wonderful juries for forgetting.

Then, too, Fred Lundin and his candidate, Dr. John Dill Robertson, his old friend and political asset, for Fred is reported still ardently supporting Bill, his old protégé, and it is not deemed likely that the "poor Swede's" feelings will be sweetened by the demonstration of yesterday that without his tutelage Bill ran better than ever he did while Lundin was the boss.

Strong in Black Wards.

In the Negro wards Thompson ran stronger than ever before, despite the loudly heralded revolt in which Edwar W. Wilson, who had been a friend of the state commerce commission and a friend of Lundin and Doc Hill, carried the Litsinger banner. Ald. L. B. Anderson and Oscar De Priest upheld the Thompson end. The figures last night showed the following result:

In the Second Thompson got a 16 to 1 vote.

In the Second, Third, and Fourth combined the Deenne-Brundage forces looked for about 40 per cent of the vote for their candidate. Last night the count showed Bill had carried the Negro section, 8 to 1. Bill walked out of the Second, Third, and Fourth wards alone with a plurality of 43,142 over Litsinger. The vote in the three wards stood: Thompson, 49,871; Litsinger, 6,729.

Harding Believed Still Strong.

Last night the politicians remarked that George F. Harding, county treasurer, of the Fourth ward, does not appear to have lost control of the district, not so that any one would notice.

In Hyde Park and Lake View, where the Litsinger campaigners looked for an outpouring of votes, the opposition centralized, but faded in the other direction. Roy O. West, lost the Fifth by 1,779. The Sixth, the home of B. W. Snow, Municipal court bailiff, and one of the big three in the Thompson campaign, went to Bill by 3,568.

The Tenth, the South Chicago ward, where Patrick Moynihan, member of the state commerce commission swung to Litsinger, failed to swing with Moynihan. The row in this ward caused much of a stir during the campaign, but in the voting Thompson copped it by 2,500.

Litsinger Loses Home Ground.

The Bridgeport ward, in which Litsinger grew up, fell into Bill's lap, and further south all the wards carved out of the old Town of Lake went to Thompson by 2,800. But the odds had plenty of company. The redoubtable James A. Kearns, clerk of the Municipal court, failed to carry the Sixteenth for Litsinger by 2,300. Dr. William Reid, ex-smoke inspector in the Thompson régime, proving too strong.

Senator Deneen's ward, the Seventeenth, old Englewood and Normal Park, was a little better for Litsinger, but Bill nailed it by 841. In the Eighteenth, Charles Williams carried his ward by 1,800 for Thompson.

Miller "Loses His Grip."

On the west side, Morris Elmer's ward, the Twentieth, seemed to Thompson by 5,977. Elmer seems to be losing his grip, the politicians point out, for Litsinger polled 922 votes in a ward where the politicians think it's a bunk day at the polls unless the tally sheets show an almost unanimous vote.

Sam Roderick did perhaps the best of any of the Deneen men; he kept Thompson down to a plurality of 758 in the Twenty-fourth, while in the Twenty-fifth, Diamond Joe Esposito beat Litsinger by a margin of 1,116.

Horner K. Galpin's ward, 3206, came across for Thompson with the largest plurality of the West side wards. It was 6,478. Sheriff Graydon's bailiwick, the 28th, gave Bill a margin of 4,542, and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe's ward, the Twenty-ninth, rolled up a Thompson plurality of 5,970. Dr. Dill Robertson lives in the same ward. And so it went along.

Carries Litsinger's Ward.

On the North side, Thompson carried Litsinger's home ward, the 43d, by 3,206. He carried the Forty-fourth, where Tom Wallace, Circuit court clerk and a Brundage leader, is the strong man, by 725. The 45th, Leonard Brundage's ward, went to Thompson by 2,643. The Forty-sixth, the old home of Edward J. Brundage, former attorney general, was carried by Thompson by 2,132—this is Thompson's home ward. The Forty-seventh, where County Commissioner John W. G. Gifford, a former Brundage man, was carried, gave Thompson a 5,193 plurality, while further north, H. C. W. Lauzenheimer, chief clerk of the sanitary district, carried the Forty-ninth for Litsinger by 109 the one ward he won. County Commissioner Harry A. Newby, the Crowe committee man, failing to deliver.

OLD LETTER MAY SOLVE DEATH OF CROWN PRINCE

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.—A solution to the 40 year old mystery surrounding the disappearance of Archduke Johann of Austria and the death here in 1924 of a man named John Orth, said to have been the missing nobleman, is expected tomorrow if a letter supposed to have been left in the Vatican 18 years ago is genuine. Other documentary evidence bearing on the archduke's identity is expected from England.

Shortly before his death Orth told Mrs. Charlotte Fairchild that he had sent the letter to Rome, and that it contained an authoritative account of the fatal shooting of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, an event that has never been satisfactorily explained.

The letter was not to be opened until Feb. 23, 1927.

While no definite evidence has been discovered in New York, proving that Orth was the missing archduke, many of his friends insist that he was.

In the Fourteenth ward, Ald. Joseph Mendel, will have to fight it out in April with Frank A. Sloan.

In the Thirtieth ward Ald. Joseph McDonough, chairman of the local transportation committee, will have to go again against George M. Roscynski, manager of a poolroom.

In more than 21,000 votes in the Thirtieth ward, Ald. Mills missed getting a majority by less than 1,000 votes. Mills is a Democrat, but opposes the organization when it thinks it's wrong; so Bert Fairchild, who works in the law department of the Sanitary district, will try to out. He will contend with Mills later, although he received only a few more than half as many votes as Mills.

In Fortieth Ward.

Ald. Christ Jensen of the Fortieth ward follows his custom of going to a second election. John William Chapman, a lawyer, was the high man among Jensen's four opponents and will fight it out with Jensen in April.

The failure of Ald. L. M. Brieske of the Forty-fifth ward to win reelection at the primary was a surprise. The ward is largely German and William H. Feilgenbusz, real estate dealer, will go after Brieske single handed at the next election. A third candidate presented a decision yesterday.

Two Other Contests.

Two other second contests will be staged. One in the Forty-eighth ward and the other in the Fifteenth ward. In neither ward was a sitting alderman a candidate.

In the Forty-eighth John A. Masson, a lawyer, supported by the Brundage organization, took the lead, and Theodore J. Schreiber, a Thompson candidate, until recently employed at the Sanitary district, ran second. The two other candidates trailed.

In the Fifteenth ward there were six candidates. The second contest probably will be between Ald. K. Mose, a real estate dealer, and Carl H. Lundquist, an assistant corporation counsel. Curtis F. Mallin, owner of a sporting goods store, is a close third.

Anderson Easy Winner.

Louis B. Anderson of the second ward won over three opponents by a vote of 19 to 7. Anderson is colored, but has unusual ability, and was used as council floor leader frequently under the last Thompson administration. Ald. Robert R. Jackson, also colored, was an easy winner in the third ward.

In the Eleventh ward there were six candidates. The second contest probably will be between Ald. Bert A. Cronan, whose constituency is also largely colored, won over five opponents. The political friends of Cronan are closely associated with "Big Bill" and may be pushed to the front if Thompson happens to be beaten.

In the Sixth ward of Guy Guernsey, "biggest wheel of the council," won a decided victory over three opponents. The M. V. L. say that "his experience, integrity, and sane consideration have made him a council leader."

Al. Meyerling Returned.

Al. William D. Meyerling in the Eighth ward, was forced up against an aggressive Thompson candidate in Edward Schneider, a sanitary district clerk. But the one arm soldier won.

Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, the snappy Scotchman of the Ninth ward, had only nominal opposition in two opponents.

One of the humorous contests of the day was in the Eleventh ward, where Ald. John P. Wilson won by a majority of 19 to 7. George Garry Noonan, state representative and a member of the Municipal Voters' League, was beaten by his opponent by 1,000 votes.

Ald. Joseph Cepak is another councilman who must spend more cash to retain his seat. He is from the Twenty-second ward. Anthony L. Goliushinski will be the runner-up.

Mendel vs. Sloan.

Ald. Joseph Mendel in the Twenty-third ward will have to fight it out in April with Frank A. Sloan.

In the Thirtieth ward Ald. Joseph McDonough, chairman of the local transportation committee, will have to go again against George M. Roscynski, manager of a poolroom.

Two Other Contests.

Two other second contests will be staged. One in the Forty-eighth ward by a vote of three to one. Ald. John Toman in the Twenty-third defeated his two opponents by 1,325 votes.

By about three to one Ald. Stanley

10 Pairs Must Run Again on April 5.

Honorable John "won yesterday by a vote of more than four to one.

Second elections cost money. Frequently they require more cash than the first contest.

The run-off contests will be held in the following wards:

In the Tenth, Ald. Ernest M. Cross, who has been criticized by the Municipal Voters' League for most of the ten years he has been in the city council, was ousted by Ald. William A. Rowan and editor of the Daily Gannett, but Rowan failed to get a majority of all votes cast. Rowan and Cross will renew the fight at the April election.

The Twelfth ward supplies another second contest. Ald. E. J. Kuntzman, a councilman, was carried by a wide margin, but his six opponents obtained a considerably larger number of votes. Kuntzman, opposed by the M. V. L., has been forced to a second election twice before.

Ald. Joseph Cepak is another councilman who must spend more cash to retain his seat. He is from the Twenty-second ward. Anthony L. Goliushinski will be the runner-up.

Mendel vs. Sloan.

Ald. Joseph Mendel in the Twenty-third ward will have to fight it out in April with Frank A. Sloan.

Al. Meyerling Returned.

Al. William D. Meyerling in the Eighth ward, was forced up against an aggressive Thompson candidate in Edward Schneider, a sanitary district clerk. But the one arm soldier won.

Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, the snappy Scotchman of the Ninth ward, had only nominal opposition in two opponents.

One of the humorous contests of the day was in the Eleventh ward, where Ald. John P. Wilson won by a majority of 19 to 7. George Garry Noonan, state representative and a member of the Municipal Voters' League, was beaten by his opponent by 1,000 votes.

INSULL RETURNS HOME SILENT ON SENATE HEARING

To Face Reed Committee
Again on Saturday.

Samuel Insull returned yesterday afternoon from Washington where he had been before the Reed slush fund committee Monday. He was accompanied by Daniel J. Schuyler and Gilmore E. Porter, his lawyers.

Mr. Insull went directly from the train to his home, avoiding both his lawyers because of the legal holiday. Mr. Porter also went to his home, but had no comment to make, replies to give to any questions.

The trio are scheduled to return to Washington for further examination by the Reed committee on Saturday. It was made plain yesterday that none of the three will have any statements to publication in the meantime.

For Return Trip.

There are no plans for the return of Mr. Insull to Washington and one of Mr. Schuyler. The senate committee appointed to investigate the expenses of last year desires to know more from Mr. Insull regarding a check for $190,000. Mr. Insull was asked to ascertain on what bank he gave that check and to whom it was made out. The committee desires to know what share Mr. Insull's corporation had in the gift of the campaign funds.

Also Mr. Insull told the Reed committee that he gave $40,000, in addition to other sums about which he had previously testified, for political purposes. This was transferred through Mr. Schuyler. Both Mr. Insull and Mr. Schuyler have been asked to tell whom this cash was delivered.

Get Time to Decide Answers.

Both refused to answer these questions Monday. They have been given time to think over and say next Saturday whether they will answer. Insull is supposed to make a citation on contempt.

Practically every Chicago politician was in his ward yesterday with the primary election. The few asked for expressions pleaded that they had not had time to read the testimony, but such asked for the gossip as to who received the $40,000 of extra contributions from Mr. Insull.

ENCOURAGING THOSE INTERNATIONAL BAD BOYS

MYSTERY SHOTS KILL MAN; SEEK HIS SWEETHEART

James Glennon, 22 years old, of 6517 South Paulina street, was shot and killed last night in a passage, according to the home of his sweetheart, Miss Florence Stokes, 6450 South Green street.

Two shells, apparently from an automatic pistol, were found beside his body. Two bullets had struck him in the head. A search for Miss Stokes was started after the police discovered two cartridges similar to the exploded shells in her room.

Relative of the girl, living at 5804 Emerald, avowed to Lieut. Michael McFadden of Englewood that when she and Glennon quarreled recently, yesterday afternoon, however, they conversed on the telephone and arranged to meet last night, it was said. According to Charles Donchue, with whose family Miss Stokes roomed, she had been home during the night.

Mrs. Catherine Stokes, who lives at the Emerald avenue address and is the foster mother of the young woman, told the police that the Miss Stokes called on her about midnight and said she had had trouble with her "boy friend." She seemed to be worried. Mrs. Stokes said, and soon left.

In Miss Stokes' room the police found a letter she had written to Glennon upbraiding him for his inclination to marry her. She wrote that she had been afraid when she tried to hold his hand in a picture show and to kiss him while they were riding.

A possible motive for the shooting was found when Miss Mary Hyzny, 19 years old, 2250 West 42d street, was questioned. She said she had been engaged to Glennon for several months. After learning this Lieut. McFadden expressed the opinion that Miss Stokes had shot Glennon after a quarrel about Miss Hyzny.

Glennon was a Surface Lines conductor and a brother of Policeman William Glennon of the Wabash avenue station.

ALL FRANK GETS OUT OF TRYING TO HANG IS A DISORDERLY CHARGE

From disorderly conduct to death is a frequent sequence of events in Chicago. But from death to disorderly conduct is something else and only Frank Sanday, in all the records of the police department, has made the journey.

Sanday, who is 32 years old, knotted a rope around his neck yesterday afternoon, tied the other end to a hook in his home, 1367 North Halsted street, and hanged himself. Some time later his wife came in and found him.

She called the police. Lieut. Alex Jensen and his squad from Hudson avenue station went to the scene. Sanday was still hanging. The policemen felt his pulse and pronounced him dead. Then they cut the rope and put Sanday on a stretcher.

The telephone call to the coroner's office brought permission to take the body to the nearest undertaker. The inquest was set for 10 a. m. But as Sanday was being carried out in came Capt. John Scanlon of the fire department with a pulmotor squad. He begged for a chance to work and the obliging police put the supposed corpse back on the stretcher. Fifteen minutes later, Sanday was breathing. Fifteen more and he stood up.

Then he was booked for disorderly conduct.

In Miss Stokes' room the police found a letter she had written to Glennon upbraiding him for his inclination to marry her. She wrote that she had been afraid when she tried to hold his hand in a picture show and to kiss him while they were riding.

Audrey Elliott Discovers "It"

For some twenty years Audrey Elliott has found the existence enlightened by higher mathematics, complete. She was not bad looking, but she spent her evenings reading Freud's "Book of Dreams," and she had just finished wearing braces on her teeth. She adored caramels and Tommy Mills (who couldn't see her). So Audrey was human, after all.

But life is not all caramels and calculus, especially where men are concerned. Audrey just did not have "it," as Elinor Glyn would. Her debut was simple, expensive and flat—just like Audrey. And as she greatly desired Tommy and a Duplex apartment, she felt very low.

Indeed, after a stupid season, she realized that she was too intelligent for her set, and that she might as well end it all and become a missionary.

This might have happened had she not dropped into a certain Michigan Avenue shop before entering harsh society for the not-so-critical natives of Pongo-land.

A suave young person helped her select a slim, pale green chiffon outfit set in Titian hair glistening. She wore it to a smart charity affair that night, and things went rather well. (We might add that Mr. Mills was present.)

Miracles do not happen in a moment, but the average man may be acquired in two months. In the conservatory of their Duplex, Audrey said, winking at the moon, "Well, I have 'it' now!"

"What's 'it'?" asked Tommy.

"You, darling stupid!" she laughed.

COOLIDGE DRAWS WASHINGTON, THE MAN, OUT OF PAST

Congress Hears Eulogy of 1st President by 30th.

out which there would have been no independence, no union, no constitution and no republic.

"His ways were the ways of truth. He built for eternity. His influence grows with the increasing years. In wisdom of action, in purity of character, he stands alone. We can not yet estimate him. We can only indicate our reverence for him and thank the Divine Providence which sent him to serve and inspire his fellow men."

To the preparation of this estimate of the nation's founder the author brought the results of a life time and the enthusiasm born of a judgment long entertained that Washington was the greatest man America ever has produced. Yet the President made it clear that he finds Washington more admirable as a human being than as the demi-god of tradition.

"It is greatly to be hoped that out of the studies pursued and the investigations made, a more broad and a more comprehensive understanding and a more complete comprehension of Washington the man and his relation to all that is characteristic of American life may be secured," Mr. Coolidge said. "It was to be expected that he would be idealized by his countrymen. His living at a time when there were scanty reports in the public press, coupled with the inclination of early biographers, resulted in a rather imaginary character being created in response to the universal desire to worship his memory.

Real Character Obscured.

"The facts of his life were of record, but were not easily accessible. While many excellent books, often scholarly and eloquent, have been written about him, his reputation has been so strong to represent him as an heroic figure, composed of superlatives that the real man among men, the human being subjected to the trials and temptations common to all mortals, has been too much obscured and forgotten.

"When we regard him in this character and have revealed to us the judgment with which he met his problems, we shall all the more understand and revere his true greatness.

"No man ever deserved more: he never relied on miracles. But he was a man endowed with what has been called uncommon common sense, with tireless industry, with a talent for taking infinite pains and with a mind able to understand the universal and eternal problems of mankind.

How We View Washington.

"Washington has come to the public almost exclusively as the Virginia colonel who accompanied the unfortunate expedition of Gen. Braddock, as the commander-in-chief of the Continental army during the revolutionary war, as the first President of the United States, and as the master of the beautiful estate at Mount Vernon. This general estimate is based, to a large extent, on the command he held in time of war and the public office he held in time of peace.

"But he has an appeal even broader than this, which today is equally valuable to the people of the United States. Not many of our citizens are to be called out to take high commands or to hold high positions. We are all necessarily engaged in the ordinary affairs of life. As a valuable example to youth and to maturity, the experience of Washington in these directions is worthy of much more attention than it has received.

A Man of Affairs.

"We all share in the benefits which accrued from the independence he won and the free republic he did so much to establish. We need a diligent comprehension and understanding of the great principles of government which he wrought out, but we shall also secure a wide practical advantage if we attend to the record, not so much as expounded, and consider him also as a man of affairs. It was in this field that he developed that executive ability which he later displayed in the camp and in the council chamber."

The exceedingly practical minded thirtieth President of the United States returns again and again to the practical record of the first President. Washington in his studies was preparing to be a "practical business man," Mr. Coolidge said. "If ever there was a self-made man, it was George Washington. He was the most successful farmer of his day. He engages in many business enterprises. He understood finance, to which circumstance we are indebted for our national bank system," the President pointed out, for it was Washington's support founded on an enlightened un-standing of finance that enabled Hamilton to realize his plans.

"As President," said Mr. Coolidge, "he was always an exponent of sound and honest public finance. He advocated the payment of our debts in full to holders of records, and the assumption by the nation of the debts incurred by the various states to carry on the revolution. The support of financial steps, because it was morally right, strengthened the Union."

It was because of this "practical business ability and interest that Washington was one of the first to realize the future of the country beyond the Alleghenies. He was the moving spirit in organizing our public lands and was associated with his brother, Lawrence, in the Ohio company and other western enterprises."

"Having a vision of what the west meant in the future, he wrote of the new republic," said the President.

"Washington in 1784 journeyed out into the wilds. His diary of the trip is filled with interest and enthusiasm over the possibilities of that region.

The First Expansionist.

"Hubert, who has made a study of the first expansionist, the originator of the idea of expansion through commercial relations."

"It was a pioneer idea, instinct with genius," this author writes, "and Washington's advocacy of it marks him as the first commercial American, the first man typical of the America that was to be."

"Due to his investments, he became the president of the James River company and of the Potowmack River company. In 1785 he looked into the possibility of opening navigation through to the west."

"To the Potowmack company, which involved the first interstate commerce negotiations in this country, he devoted four years of service. It has been thought that these negotiations entered into by Washington led up almost directly to the calling of the continental convention. They resulted clearly in a decided understanding of the articles of confederation of accomplishing anything involving the welfare of all the states and showed the need of a more strongly centralized national government.

"His ability as a business man was the strong support of his statesmanship. It made his political ideas intensely practical.

"That he should have been responsible in large measure for the opening of the west and for calling attention to the commercial advantages the country might derive therefrom is by no means the least of his benefactions to the nation.

"He demonstrated that those who develop our resources, whether along commercial or in any other field of endeavor, are entitled to the approval, rather than the censure, of their countrymen."

Washington was a builder—a creator. He was constantly working to improve the material and social conditions of the country in accordance with sectional interests. His ideas in regard to the opening of our western territory were thought out primarily for the benefit of the nation. It has been said that he would have been the greatest man in America had there been no revolutionary war."

A Practical Idealist.

"Again it was 'the ability to translate ideals into the practical affairs of the nation' that Washington had in mind in calling the continental convention. 'It is a pioneer idea, instinct with genius,' this author writes, 'and Washington's advocacy of it marks him as the first commercial American, the first man typical of the America that was to be.'

Washington was a builder—a creator. He was constantly working to improve the material and social conditions of the country in accordance with sectional interests. His ideas in regard to the opening of our western territory were thought out primarily for the benefit of the nation. It has been said that he would have been the greatest man in America had there been no revolutionary war."

"As President," said Mr. Coolidge, "he was always an exponent of sound and honest public finance. He advocated the payment of our debts in full to holders of records, and the assumption by the nation of the debts incurred by the various states to carry on the revolution. The support of financial steps, because it was morally right, strengthened the Union."

It was because

Foreign Lands Listen In

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—One voice, speaking through a single microphone, may be heard round the world, when President Coolidge's address to Congress was carried on the national broadcasting system, hookup of forty-two stations. His voice was picked up in Europe and rebroadcast to countries millions. Definite reports say many have come from Berlin, London, and Paris of clear receptions of the address.

In the United States a radio network extending south to Jacksonville, Fla., north to Detroit, and Portland, Me., and west to Seattle, Wash., directed the President's voice to every section. It was estimated at least 20,000,000 Americans listened in.

In addition to local broadcasting, the National Broadcasting company put a program on a short wave length that was picked up in Europe and was believed to have extended to the Arctic, South America, South Africa, and Australia.

Station HES at Berlin reported that the program was being heard "clear and strong." The Associated Press in South Africa, or the Arctic, but these sections are reached almost at will by KDKA short wave transmission, radio officials said, and it is expected reports will be received from those points tomorrow.

HEARD IN EUROPE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service] LONDON, Feb. 22.—Great Britain heard the voice of President Calvin Coolidge for the first time in history this evening. The Washington broadcast was picked up at Keston station and rebroadcast from a London station. The transmission began at 5:30 p.m., London time [11:30 a.m. in Chicago time], and continued until 6:15.

American visitors and English radio listeners to the President as they sipped their cocktails before dinner. Sixty Americans, including Gen. James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, and Col. Henry L. Roosevelt, European manager of the Radio Corporation of America, listened in on the President's speech in their suite in the Savoy hotel.

Except for occasional interference and fading, the transmission was perfect. Gen. Harbord told THE TRIBUNE correspondent:

"I could clearly recognize the President's voice. It was so good I could visualize him speaking."

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—President Coolidge's radioed speech was heard perfectly in the former Kaiser's palace in Berlin today. An American was struck from the cupola of the former imperial cathedral to the cupola of the palace. It caught the American waves. They then were retransmitted with the utmost clearness, while the big stations in the German capital, Witzleben and Koenigsstuerherhausen, were unable to cope with the atmospheric difficulties.

LA FOLLETTE HATCHET CHIPS ANOTHER TERM COOLIDGE CHERRY TREE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(Special)—The third presidential term issue was brought before the Senate today in a resolution introduced by Senator La Follette [Rep., Wis.]

The resolution was not referred to a committee but will be called up for direct action by the Senate if the Wisconsin senator can bring it about.

The text of the resolution, which is obviously aimed at President Coolidge, is as follows:

"Resolved: That it is the sense of the Senate that the precedent established by Washington and other presidents of the United States in retiring from the executive office after their second term, has become a fundamental cornerstone of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

The language of the resolution is somewhat different than that of the resolution offered recently in the house by Representative Beck [Rep., Wis.]

A radio fan, Herr Schlaeger, from the suburb of Zehlendorf, on one of Berlin's big lakes, telephoned THE TRIBUNE that he had heard perfectly direct from the American president the speech and the national anthem, with a three tube set on a 22 meter wave length. He tried to hear on a 63 meter wave, but this was indistinct.

Picked Up in Paris.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service] PARIS, Feb. 22.—President Coolidge's Washington's birthday speech was heard clearly over the radio in Paris. It was picked up by the special station at the home of Senator Paul Dupuis, owner of the newspaper Petit Parisien, in a suburb. This is the first time American broadcast has been heard in France in the daytime.

Petit Parisien remarks: "Although he may deserve the name of 'Silent Cal,' he is the first statesman to be heard by half the globe."

NICARAGUA ASKS U. S. TO REBUILD IT AS A NATION

100 Year Alliance Pact
Offered by Diaz.

BY GERALD MARTIN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

(Copyright: 1927. By The Chicago Tribune.)
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 22.—In exchange for American guarantees of sovereignty and independence and as guarantees of the Bryan-Chamorro treaty on Nicaragua's rights and naval base, President Adolfo Diaz this week will submit to the Nicaraguan congress a proposal for a 100 year alliance with the United States.

The preamble expresses the friendship and mutual needs of both nations. It contains an agreement similar to the Hattie treaty and the Cuban treaty under the Platt amendment with complete control of Nicaragua's finances, police and sanitation in the hands of advisors nominated by the United States. It provides a limit for Nicaragua's deployable financial position by a loan, which will refund all the present obligations and prepare the way for a railroad to the Atlantic coast, as well as much needed highways and schools for Nicaragua to be provided by the United States.

The protection is comparable with that of Belgium by the powers. The financial controller will have duties similar to the Dawes reparations agent general in Germany.

Right to Intervene.
In the proposal Nicaragua concedes the right of the United States to exercise such measures and develop such plans as assure the efficacy of the guarantees. It recognizes the right of the United States to intervene in the internal affairs of Nicaragua in defense of its independence, to maintain an adequate government for the protection of lives and properties, and to guarantee individual liberty and free, fair elections, and a faithful interpretation of the Bryan-Chamorro treaty.

The treaty would require the drafting of three conventions with protocols. The first one would provide for the financial and economic rehabilitation of the country through credit operations and fiscal administration. This would include the appointment of an American financial advisor and customs collector and the creation of a new financial plan with the consolidation of the present internal and external debts of $7,000,000 by returning the capital and interest and the emission of bonds for a total to meet the revolution claims, estimated at $4,000,000. These would be raised and determined by a mixed claim commission presided over by an American, with both parties represented. A loan of $9,000,000 would be floated for railroad and other work.

Hopes a Rate Loan.
President Diaz told The Tribune correspondent that he is confident the Nicaraguan congress will approve of the plan. The Washington government has asked for a complete transcript of the proposed pact.

President Diaz believes that, with American protection guaranteed, it would be possible to float a loan at 5%, paying 5 per cent, similar to the low railroad rates.

Nicaragua, under the proposed arrangement, agrees to appoint a financial adviser on the American President's recommendation, as well as to pass laws giving the adviser the power of veto on appropriations by congress and other expenditures. It also will appoint a customs collector and a secretary of state from nominees suggested by the United States, with power to collect, receive, and apply all revenues, including the internal revenues, which at present are badly collected by the natives and are subject to heavy leaks and losses. These revenues are to be used first for debt calls, then for the national guard, and the balance will go to the government.

Nicaragua agrees not to increase the public debt, to cooperate with the financial adviser, and not to make for sign treaties nor cede lands or concessions to foreigners without permission from the United States. All the existing treaties are to be renewed, to maintain an adequate government for the protection of lives and properties, and to guarantee individual liberty and free, fair elections, and a faithful interpretation of the Bryan-Chamorro treaty.

With treaty negotiations in progress, the Senate has passed a resolution of President Diaz which may lead to important developments of American policy in the Caribbean. Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho) today proposed an intensive Senate investigation into "the conditions and policies bearing upon the relationship" between the Central American governments, Mexico, and the United States.

NEW MOVES IN NICARAGUA STIR BORAH TO ACTION

Asks Senate Inquiry of Our Latin Diplomacy.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special to the Tribune]—America's new concentration of marines in Nicaragua stirred members of the house and senate into action today and brought out a severe denunciation of the administration from Dr. T. S. Vaca, Washington agent for the Sacaas Liberal forces in Nicaragua.

With treaty negotiations in progress, the Senate has passed a resolution of President Diaz which may lead to important developments of American policy in the Caribbean. Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho) today proposed an intensive Senate investigation into "the conditions and policies bearing upon the relationship" between the Central American governments, Mexico, and the United States.

President Diaz believes that, with American protection guaranteed, it would be possible to float a loan at 5%, paying 5 per cent, similar to the low railroad rates.

These revenues are to be used first for debt calls, then for the national guard, and the balance will go to the government.

Nicaragua agrees not to increase the public debt, to cooperate with the financial adviser, and not to make for possible to ascertain the facts to his own satisfaction and independently of the state department.

In the house Representative Moore (Dem., Va.) offered a resolution requesting the President to furnish the house with specific facts bearing on the protection of American lives and property in Nicaragua, which call for a large addition to our armed forces there.

"Recent actions indicate," Mr. Moore said, "that what is now proposed is intervention and complete occupancy of Nicaragua. There seems to be substituted a new method of dealing with the Nicaraguan situation, resembling the method employed in Haiti. We are entitled to know the facts behind this policy."

The Senator's move was bitter in his condemnation of the use of additional marine forces to guard the Nicaraguan railroad.

"Diaz is routed," Dr. Vaca asserted.

"The occupation of Leon, Chinandega, and other towns along the Nicaraguan railroad by American marines indicates that the Diaz strength has reached its lowest ebb and his tottering regime needs to be propped up by us.

"It is interesting to note that the sundry excuses advanced to explain the intervention of American forces in favor of Diaz have been discarded with the exception of one—namely: the 'protection of American property.'

A full examination of the facts leads one to the conclusion that the only 'American property' in Nicaragua requiring protection is the Diaz government itself."

In the face of the new developments, the state department and the President maintained absolute silence.

MRS. DEUTSCH SEEKS DIVORCE, PARIS REPORTS

Former Adele Rosenwald
Files Suit, Cables Say.

Cabled reports from Paris yesterday stated that Mr. and Mrs. Armand Deutsch of Chicago have come to the point of their matrimonial way. Mrs. Deutsch is the former Adele Rosenwald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenwald.

Her dispatches say a petition has been filed by Mrs. Deutsch in a Paris tribunal, in which she asks for a divorce on grounds of desertion.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Deutsch sailed for France together last December, accompanied by their two sons, Armand Jr. and Richard, ostensibly for the purpose of placing the boys in a school in France, reports were current in Chicago society at that time, according to an old friend of the couple, that all was not well in their domestic life.

Report Trip Was for Divorce.

It was reported yesterday on apparently reliable authority that the trip abroad had been planned for the object of severance of the marital tie, and that Mr. and Mrs. Deutsch had agreed to disagree because of a growing indiscretions.

During January it was reported that Mr. Deutsch was enjoying the sports of the Riviera, while Mrs. Deutsch remained in Paris with her sons.

No confirmation of the Paris reports could be obtained last night from Chicago relatives of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Rosenwald and their daughter, Mrs. Alfred Stern, are in Santa Barbara, Calif., and Mr. Deutsch's brother, Julius, could not be reached at his home, 4926 Ellis Avenue.

Married Here in 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosenwald and Armand Deutsch were married in Chicago in 1912, the wedding being distinguished for its unostentatious celebration, despite the wealth of the principals. The bride's father was said to have presented a check for a million dollars as his wedding gift.

Until they gave up the apartment they had occupied at the Lake Shore Drive hotel in December the married pair of the Deutsches was considered really happy except by a few intimates who were cognizant of the widening breach.

Armand Jr., one of their two sons, was mentioned during the Loeb-Leopold trial as being on the list of names given to the slayers selected their victim.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Tom Schubert, age 14, of Berrien Springs, Mich., admitted to authorities today that he was responsible for the derailing of a Chicago, South Bend and Northern Indiana traction car near Berrien Springs last night.

"I just did it to see what would happen," he said.

The lad told of rolling a 200-pound weight on to the railroad track.

Better Speech Week Sways Pupils to Do Without Slang

Do Without clubs will be organized in almost every public school in Chicago this morning in connection with Better Speech week. Initiates will sign membership slips promising to do without some of their pet expressions, such as "say," "listen," "you bet," "I mean," "gosh," "you know what I mean," and a hundred others.

In each school district club women under direction of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will invade the classrooms from kindergarten up through high school, explaining the purpose of Better Speech week, distributing Do Without buttons, taking pledges, giving vocabulary tests and outlining the work developed since the first Better Speech week ten years ago, in getting Americans to express themselves to their language by using the best speech possible.

Write Plays for Pupils' Action.

In many schools pupils are writing plays on the better speech theme. These will be enacted some time during the week. And in all schools poster and essay contests are being conducted with speech as the goal.

"The facility and freedom with which young people compose these original plays each year comes from their familiarity with the subject speech," said Mrs. Katherine Knowles Robbin of the Chicago Woman's Club, originator of the movement. "The children understand exactly the effect the play is expected to produce: the ridicule of poor speech and the joyous, financial, moral, and intellectual triumph of good speech."

Talks will be broadcast from various radio stations during the week to supplement the campaign conducted in the schools and mothers' clubs.

"They experience none of the hay-

PROTEST SENT ON REJECTION OF DR. SCHMIDT

The German club yesterday mailed to each alderman a copy of a resolution condemning the council schools committee for its rejection of Dr. Otto L. Schmidt as a member of the board of education. The resolution, which is signed by 100 members and asks that the city council reverse the vote of the schools committee, calls Dr. Schmidt "a most distinguished and public spirited Chicago citizen." It mentions his presidency of the Illinois

Historical society, the Chicago Historical society, and the German-American Historical society and calls attention to his "nation-wide reputation for professional and civic work."

Among the signers are Judge John P. O'Conor, Arthur C. Ladd, Leo V. Reeder, Justice Henry C. Murphy, Mrs. J. Schlesinger, Judge Herbert F. Hamm, Justice John H. H. Tamm, Alvin V. Hand, Frank Highemer, and Arthur Seiferhoff.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR METROPOLITAN CHICAGO

1. Make Chicago the First City in the World.
2. Start Building a Subway.
3. Electrify the Railroads.
4. Abolish the Smoke Pali.
5. Build Safe Streets and Highways.
6. Re-establish Constitutional Representation.

DEVER AND THOMPSON.

William Hale Thompson has won the Republican nomination and now will be stepping out to get four more years in the city hall. The eight he had still stand out as a municipal nightmare relieved by the decency of Mayor Dever's term. Dever was removed and the city has its chance.

Four years ago Thompson quit rather than try for a decision on his record. He weakened, thinking that publicity had reached him damagingly and seeing that some of his support was badly shot to pieces. It was consequential that State's Attorney Crowe had deserted him. Crowe is back with him now.

More is known of the Thompson administration record now than when Thompson himself thought it was too bad to permit his candidacy for a third term. Only recently in court two of his fee experts have come clean with explanations of what was gone in running off with public funds and have engaged themselves to make restitution within their power. Part of the money has been traced to the Thompson organization, and citizens who care to know the component parts of the business of their Bill are much better informed than they were when Thompson himself thought his record would not do in politics.

Mayor Dever decided to stand for a second term because many citizens, without regard for party, asked him to do so. It was their thought that if he withdrew the possibilities of the primaries in both parties might leave the city with little choice and even with no chance.

Mr. Dever does not need testimony as to his personal character. In character and in purposes he represents the best type of man who can be expected into municipal administration in this country. He has been fair, square, and honest. He has wanted to give Chicago decent government. Political administration is defective; more so in the world of today than it ever was. It is the ox cart in a motor age, and its relation to the actualities of life is getting thinner every day. Elsewhere in American life tremendous things are being done and government is medieval.

All the more reason that municipal administration should be deliberately good rather than liberally bad. Dever's purposes are known to be good. Thompson's are known to be bad. His presence in the Republican primary made it ridiculous.

It could not be anything else with an unconscious comedian giving the electorate as issues the malversation of George V. of Great Britain and the soft boiled eggs in Dr. Robertson's whiskers.

Thompson is a buffoon in a tommyrot foundry, but when his crowd gets loose in the city hall Chicago has more need of marines than any Nicaragua town.

No one is obliged to guess as to Thompson or as to Dever. The city has had experience with both and knows exactly what to expect. It is not exploring unknown territory. Both regions are mapped and sign-posted.

The issue is between common sense and plain bunk. It is between decency and disreputability, between sensible people and political defectives, between honesty in administration and the percentage system.

ANOTHER NAVAL CONFERENCE.

The responses of the Washington conference powers to Mr. Coolidge's invitation ought to help the government and the nation to orient themselves more wisely for a sound defense policy. We have not been able to share the President's amiable optimism respecting the practical possibilities of another conference. We fear that the United States would emerge from it rather worse off than better. But the invitation will have brought us, we hope, a net gain in much needed knowledge of how the other great naval powers look upon their naval responsibilities and if the conference is not held we shall not only be reconciled but disposed to congratulate Mr. Coolidge on his effort.

We are interested especially by the comment of the Italian naval writer who says that Mr. Coolidge's invitation is merely an effort to conceal our deplorable naval weaknesses and save us the expense of amending them. He is sure the President cannot induce congress to supply funds for such a purpose, and that if we did we could not find a personnel to man them. Naturally in such a pre-dicament, outflamed, as he asserts we are in cruisers and scout ships by Great Britain and Japan and in destroyers and submarines by Italy, we seek to clothe a "political parliamentary and demagogic necessity" with the colors of humanity and peace.

Our situation he describes as follows: "It is true that the United States has 200 destroyers, but fifty-three are pre-war craft without value, and there are 220 others out of service and rotting into a state of uselessness. The United States has only twenty-nine effective destroyers and seven effective submarines, while England has 161 effective destroyers and ten effective submarines; Japan has seventy-nine destroyers and nineteen submarines; France forty-eight destroyers and forty-nine submarines; Italy twenty-nine destroyers and fifteen submarines.

"For the United States to build up to a parity with England it would have to construct 160 cruisers of 10,000 tons, twenty scouts, eighty destroyers, and several submarines."

Meanwhile, we learn that the French are disappointed at what appears to be an acceptance of the invitation by Japan, which they had hoped would demand as a condition precedent to any consideration of further limitation the abandonment by Great Britain of the Singapore base project and by the United States of its base at Hawaii. We do not see how such sacrifices would benefit France and can only ascribe the hope to a sentiment of general hostility to us in that country from which we quite recently had the privilege of helping to expel an invader.

But French disappointment may prove to be premature. If the conference meets Japan may be able to induce our altruistic representatives to make concessions which would weaken us further and in that degree advance the relative naval position of our sister republic. Japan did very well at the first conference.

Meanwhile, let us acquire what knowledge we can of where we are at, naval and morally speaking, and draw some practical inferences. And if there is to be another conference let us not invite misfortune by assuming that the other conferees are thinking of anything save their own advantage.

THE VENDETTA IN THE FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Bureau county precinct committee in the convention to select and instruct delegates to the Fifth Supreme court district convention did not instruct for Justice Stone, but gave the delegates their choice of three other candidates, including Speaker Schools of the house of representatives. Schools is the candidate supported by Small in his attempt to punish the sitting justice for his decision in the interest case.

Small's attempt on the Peoria county convention was a failure and the delegates were instructed for Justice Stone, but the attack is being carried into the other counties of the district, and the surrender of the Bureau county organization to the pay roll and the promises and threats of the state administration was complete.

Although a ranker invasion of a district for foul purposes in politics was never attempted, its audacity and viciousness do not guarantee its failure. Unless the people of the counties composing the district have a real conception of what is being done to the judicial government and make their opinion felt, it is possible that a Supreme court will lose his place because he held that Small had not accounted for money belonging to the state.

That will put Justice in the field of the vendetta.

THE BOULDER DAM PROJECT.

It is to be hoped the filibuster carried on against the Swing-Johnson bill for the building of a dam on the Colorado river at Boulder canon and the erection of a 1,000,000 horse power electric plant will be successful. The is a California project vigorously opposed by Arizona and one or two other states of the Colorado basin, and it raises questions of principle and policy which have not yet been satisfactorily answered. Engineering opinion is divided as to the advisability of building at Boulder canon rather than higher up the stream, and problems of efficient flood control and irrigation as well as of power development need more consideration than they have had.

From the standpoint of the midwest, its citizens will want to know why they ought to be taxed to provide a public improvement one of the principal purposes of which is to increase the agricultural acreage of the nation and the problem of surplus agricultural production. A legitimate measure of food control may justly receive some federal aid, but we in the midwest cannot see why the federal funds should be drawn up to the tune of 125 million in order to bring more western lands under irrigation and supply new power resources for California and other adjoining states. Those are enterprises which can wait a bit and their claims upon federal aid require more examination.

GIVE US CALUMET HARBOR.

Corporation Counsel Busch and Commissioner of Public Works Sprague have met every objection to the proposed Calumet harbor project raised by the state superintendent of waterways in a constructive way which ought to satisfy Mr. Mulvihill. It is to be hoped the state official will withdraw his veto of the ordinance and cooperate with the city officials in advancing this much needed project as expeditiously as possible. The city council gave prolonged study and consideration to the ordinance and determined the main issues of public policy wisely as well as the engineering and financial factors in accordance with the interests of the district and city. Mr. Mulvihill can go on debating the provisions of this project indefinitely, but it will be at a heavy cost to Chicago and to the state. We trust he will not, but on the contrary will do what he can to see that Calumet harbor is developed without further delay. As the city officials' statement points out, this development is an important adjunct of the lakes-to-the-gulf waterway and will be of substantial benefit to the commerce of the state.

For want of an extra bathroom the sale was lost

To say that a one-bathroom home is hard to sell, is merely to tell you what every realtor knows. And to add that a one-bathroom home is inconvenient to live in, confirms what you have already experienced. More bathrooms add joy and health to home life, and add far more than they cost to the rental or resale value of homes or apartments.

See these model bathrooms

The need for more bathrooms in the home is becoming universally recognized. As proof, note the large number of new homes and apartments in your neighborhood which are being equipped with two, three and more bathrooms each. See, too, how old homes and apartments are being modernized by having extra bathrooms installed. These builders and owners know that an extra bathroom means more comfort to the occupants and more value to the building. Nobody wants a one-bathroom home today!

RABBI RIPS INTO ADMIRAL'S PLEA FOR U.S. DEFENSE

Clash Marks Citizenship Foundation Dinner.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

(Picture on back page.) Verbal bombs hurled by a clergyman speaker at the remarks of the admiral who had preceded him on the program made the American Citizenship Foundation dinner, last night, a remarkable celebration of the birth of George Washington as was held in Chicago. The oratory of the occasion almost completely eclipsed the purpose of the dinner, which was the launching of a $2,000,000 drive for the foundation.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, the principal speaker, and Dr. Louis L. Mann, rabbi of Sinai temple, were agreed. They spoke from their addresses upon one common point—the love of America and their concern for their country's welfare.

From that mutual platform their philosophies digressed as sharply and completely as the paths to the north and south poles.

Moffett Demands U. S. Defense.

Introduced by George Edmund Foss, president of the foundation and chairman of the evening, Rear Admiral Moffett, who spoke first, launched into a stirring indorsement of preparedness, an army, navy, and merchant marine second to none, and a warning against bolshevism, peace at any price, and the criticism of the policies of the administration.

Then, as if he had prepared no other address, Dr. Mann took up one by one the points brought forward in the Moffett address and, without alluding to their author, denounced them heatedly and with emphasis.

"I thought when the world war was over," Admiral Moffett declared, "that America had learned her bitter lesson—that the suffering and the loss of life had opened her eyes to the necessity of preparedness and universal military training.

The Price of Unpreparedness.

"I am convinced, and I am not afraid to say, that if America had been prepared before the last war, that war would never have happened.

"This country has been flooded with propaganda from abroad. Right now there are plenty of Americans ready to believe that we owe Europe money."

"We are not pacifists, although I do not believe they are as powerful as they would have us believe, even though there are Americans in high places preaching their policies, and the pacifist—I mean the 'peace at any price' pacifists who say we should not prepare for war."

"There are also the critics of our foreign policy who are taking issue with any action of the administration. Our President has sources of authentic information that no one else can know, and he is the one to decide, either foreign policies or other problems.

Condemns Church Interference.

"The church and state should remain distinct for the good of both. When denominations pass resolutions affecting the administration of our government, such actions may be provocative of untold harm."

"We are not pacifists, although I do not believe they are as powerful as they would have us believe, even though there are Americans in high places preaching their policies, and the pacifist—I mean the 'peace at any price' pacifists who say we should not prepare for war."

"And we need Americanism. A few years ago, down in Chile, they thought America was wrong and they were right, and they were convinced they could whip us. That's the sort of a spirit a country needs and should have."

"Our country, right or wrong."

Mann Assails Decatur.

Rabbi Mann's address followed an interval in which Secretary of Labor

DR. NICHOLAS BUTLER FINDS POPULAR TREND AGAINST PROHIBITION

U. S. WARNED TO CLING TO IDEALS OF WASHINGTON

Foreman Tells Peril of Alliance with Foes.

Wherever he travels, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the Columbia university, continues to see constant growth of public feeling against prohibition.

He said so yesterday when passing through Chicago en route to Milwaukee, where he spoke at the City club last night. He will return to address the Chicago Association of Commerce luncheon this noon.

The educator declined to go into the question of another term for President Coolidge, but said:

"It is my impression he will not be a candidate."

He explained some time ago that his belief was not the result of any direct statement made to him by Mr. Coolidge.

Among the gatherings yesterday to celebrate the 150th anniversary of George Washington's birth, most of the speakers dwelt on Washington ideals of political independence and their application to the political and moral pattern of 1927. Maj. Gen. Milford Foreman, in an address before 500 members of the D. A. R. in the Hotel La Salle sounded a warning against the present tendency to repudiate early principles.

"There are the days of disintegration and doubtful nationalism," Gen. Foreman said. "In the wake of the war has come a fear of becoming national, and many would have us join an alliance with those who love us not. To join with those who wish us ill is to invite disaster."

Worries of Real Defenses.

Without mentioning specifically the present retrenchments in national defense, Gen. Foreman said:

"We must have economy, but not economy at the expense of the common weal. We owe a duty to posterity and we cannot leave our country unprotected. It was Washington who uttered the principle, 'Look out for your home and let the world look out for its home.'

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of the Methodist Episcopal church, in an address at the Union League club, said:

"Some men are now talking as if the way to prove our love for all the people is to hate the United States. No man can be a good cosmopolite unless he is a good patriotic. No one can preach the destruction of the nation and then plead the protection of the very laws they seek to destroy."

Such persons should be sent by legal process to the lands from which they came. Lincoln had Washington were no less citizens of the world because they were Americans."

British Praise for Patriot.

For the 32d consecutive year the Second Presbyterian church, 20th street and South Michigan avenue, celebrated Washington's birthday last evening with a dinner. Dr. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) of Winnetka was the chief speaker.

"George Washington," he said, "represented the English mind and heart better than any man of his day. Great Britain at the time of the American revolution was presided over by a stupid German king and a stupid Tory minister."

"The various Commonwealths now connected with Great Britain have followed the example of America, but where they have done it not by revolution but by evolution."

Our Two Constitutions.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, addressing the Chicago Athletic club, said:

"The United States has two constitutions. One is the former political document we know as such. The other is composed of the speeches of Washington and Lincoln. They gave us a moral constitution. As long as America lives Washington's farewell address will be a guide in our relations with other peoples."

School Children's Ceremony.

Medinah temple was the scene of an impressive ceremony, the annual celebration under the auspices of the Union League club, in which thousands of school children took part. Besides the performance of the winners of the ode, oratory, and poster contest, a group of 250 Englewood high school students presented a pageant of eleven scenes.

The various Commonwealths now connected with Great Britain have followed the example of America, but where they have done it not by revolution but by evolution."

Lloyd D. Heth, Judge J. Foster Symes of Denver, and John Maynard Harlan spoke at the Hamilton club celebration.

Do You Feel "Out of Sorts?"

To Be Fit You Must Have Good Elimination

KEEPING in trim is largely a matter of sensible living. The bodily mechanism is marvelously efficient. Errors of diet, however, colds and chills, hurry, worry and lack of sleep all impose heavy strains.

Our kidneys shoulder extra burdens. Sluggish function occasionally results and permits retention of waste impurities in the blood. Presence of these toxic poisons is apt to make one dull, tired and achy.

There is often a toxic backache and dray headache and dizziness. Improper kidney function is sometimes shown by scanty or burning secretions.

Thousands have learned the virtue of Doan's Pills, stimulant diuretic*, in these conditions. For more than forty years Doan's have been winning new friends Ask your neighbor!

This innovation in hosiery enables one to have a fresh, new stocking always at hand for any emergency. No longer need a whole pair of stockings be cast aside when one is damaged or soiled.

Fine quality, all pure silk, full-fashioned, and re-enforced in the vital places. Lovely spring shades.

A side from the convenience, a decided saving is effected. Now one pair of stockings has the life of two.

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 22.—The black auto truck which nightly leaves the courtyard of Lublinska prison—at Moscow—with the corpses of persons executed in the basement of the most dreaded cheka [state political police] prison in Russia brought the body of another Russian prince to a nameless grave in the suburbs of Moscow Mon-

the endless grave which the cheka

The execution of the prince, accord-

WAITRESS GIVEN MEDAL; SAVED 2 LIVES IN FLORIDA

Miss Josephine Beatty, a waitress, of 813 Sheridan road, was yesterday awarded a medal by the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross for having saved the lives of two women in the water at Miami Beach, Fla. The award is the highest ever conferred in the Chicago district this year.

Mrs. Verma Davis of Miami Beach, the mother of two children, was the first person rescued by the Chicago girl. She had been caught in the underwater and two men made ineffectual attempts to rescue her. Realizing their danger, Miss Beatty ordered them out of the water and brought the fainting woman to shore alone.

The following month, in March of 1926, she brought Miss Amelia Dell of Pittsburgh out of the surf while breakers were running high.

Miss Beatty was born in Chicago and

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

DARWIN P. KINGSLEY President

A Mutual Organization—Founded in 1845

Incorporated under the Laws of New York

346 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, N. Y.

Eighty-second Annual Statement

To the Policy-holders:

You, the members of the New York Life Insurance Company, owned 2,220,784 policies at the close of business on December 31, 1926.

You are a vast community of people representing every honest walk in life—farmers, bankers, tradesmen, merchants, laborers, manufacturers, employers and employees, and professional men and women—young and old—all banded together in a common enterprise for the common good.

If you and your families could be brought together, you would populate one of the largest cities in the world. What a city it would be, with every family striving to safeguard its own future through a single co-operative institution for insurance and savings!

A Prosperous Year

In 1926, this Company, which you own, wrote another chapter of progress:

New insurance over

900 Million Dollars.

Total insurance in force over

54 Billion Dollars.

Paid to members and benefit claims over

133 Million Dollars,

including over

53 Millions in Dividends.

You, the policy-holders, have accumulated assets of more than 1/4 Billion Dollars. This money plus your future deposits and compound interest will eventually provide for payment of the Company's obligations to you and your beneficiaries.

We believe we are one of the companies Hon. Charles Evans Hughes had in mind when he recently said:

"I like to think of the spirit of life insurance, for it is the spirit of achievement."

Nylie Is Your Investing Agent

The fund of more than 1/4 Billion Dollars is invested in accordance with the strict requirements of the laws of the State of New York; and it plays a substantial part in the development of the nation's farms, homes, railroads and public works.

As policy-holders, you practice thrift. You invest soundly and safely. Your money will be available to you and your dependents, impressed with emergency power, at a time when it will be needed most.

That is what Mr. Hughes meant when he said, in the address to which I have just referred, that a life insurance policy was the best guardian of the purse that had ever been discovered.

Small Average Policy

Your total insurance is impressive; but if you divide it by 2,220,784, the number of policies, you will find that the size of the average policy is only $2,590.

Of course, some members have more than one policy; and many of you are also insured in other companies. But the great majority are UNDERINSURED, as you will see.

How Much Insurance Is Needed?

The answers to the following questions will enable you to measure your insurance needs: What is the minimum income you will require in your old age, or if you become totally and permanently disabled; and what is the smallest annual income your family could manage on if you were taken away?

Is it $500 a year, or $1,000, $2,000, $5,000, $10,000, or more?

How much will it require to settle your estate—to pay your debts, mortgages, and taxes, including the federal and state inheritance taxes?

How much cash will be needed at your death, or the death of your partner or an official of your company, to stabilize credit or to enable surviving partners or stockholders to acquire the deceased associate's interest in the business and carry on?

Your Program

You probably have a program, because you are insured; but how does your program stand to-day? How far short is it of the safety mark or the mark you are aiming at? May I suggest that you figure it out for yourself, or call in one of our Agents to help you work out a plan suited to your needs, so that you may feel secure as to your own and your family's future.

SENATE INSISTS ON NAVY FUND FOR THREE CRUISERS

Upholds Stand Taken by Its Conference.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special]—Without a roll call the senate this afternoon adopted the report of its conference on the naval appropriation bill and voted to insist upon its amendment to the bill setting aside an initial appropriation of $1,200,000 for the construction of the three light cruisers originally authorized in the 1924 building program.

The senate's action means immediate resumption of the crucial controversy in the house, where an attempt to insist upon the shipments in the bill was passed failed by a margin of only two votes. The senate inserted the cruiser amendment in the house bill by a vote of 49 to 27 and the bill was sent to a conference committee of the two houses.

For 245 New Airplanes.

The day the conference reported agreement on a number of major items in the bill, including a compromise fixing the total appropriation at $1,200,000, the house voted to insist upon the $2,500 set by the house and the $4,000 total fixed in the senate's amendment. Another compromise reached by the conference makes possible the acquisition of 245 new airplanes by the navy. The house originally appropriated for only 161 airplanes and in the senate the bill was amended to provide for 322.

In House Today or Tomorrow.

The conference report will come before the house late tomorrow afternoon or on Thursday with a request from Representatives French [Rep., Idaho], Taber [Rep., N. Y.], and Ayres [Dem., Kans.] for further instructions on the cruiser item, still in disagreement.

ASKS BOYCOTT OF EAST IF COOLIDGE KILLS FARM BILL

Fort Dodge, Ia., Feb. 22.—(UPI)—Should President Coolidge refuse to sign the McNary-Haugen bill for farm relief, a boycott will be started in the middle west to boycott eastern and New England made goods, according to E. L. Leighton, a leading businessman of Fort Dodge and president and general manager of the Leighton Supply company, jobbers of plumbing supplies.

The first move in this direction will be made by Mr. Leighton tomorrow of the association of Leathers and Manufacturers when he attends a meeting in Chicago manufacturers in Plumbing Supplies, he said. This meeting covers the area from Pittsburgh to Denver.

"I will draw a resolution at our meeting," Mr. Leighton said, "urging the President to sign the McNary-Haugen bill and informing him that a veto will not be followed by a movement throughout the middle west for a general boycott of articles made in the east and New England, where lies the opposition to giving the farmers any assistance."

BRITISH PREMIER VOICES FAVOR OF NAVY, SLASHING

O. K. on Coolidge Plan Visioned.

[Copyright: 1927: By The New York Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin indicated today that Great Britain would not reject President Coolidge's naval disarmament proposal.

Speaking at the opening of the new headquarters of the English speaking union at Dartmouth house, he took as his subject the relations of Great Britain and the United States.

"I think a great step forward was taken in the cause of peace between the two peoples at the meeting which took place in Washington when the agreement in regard to naval strength was reached, and, speaking as an individual here, I should be only too pleased if further progress were made."

It was apparent that Mr. Baldwin avoided making a definite pronouncement but his statement is regarded important inasmuch as after making it he could with difficulty sign a note to Washington rejecting the President's proposal.

ITALY BACKS DUCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROMA, Feb. 22.—The Italian government, well pleased with Premier Mussolini's polite but firm refusal of President Coolidge's naval disarmament memorandum, if one can judge by the expressions of leading Fascists and the entire Italian press today. There is a general feeling that Italy has asserted its place as one of the world's leading powers—an assertion which will be repeated as soon as possible.

The adoption of a three power standard for light craft so far as the Mediterranean navies are concerned is considered here the only possible course for Italy. While there is no intention of entering upon a great building program—at least at present—because of lack of funds, Italy does not intend to let its hands be tied while France and its allies build as they please.

300,000 in Fascist Militia.

Italy's answer gives added importance to Sig. Turati's statement on Sunday that the Fascist militia numbers 300,000. The Fascist militia, under strict party and military discipline, are at the disposal of Premier Mussolini and can be mobilized with the regular army in twenty-four hours should the need arise.

This is the first time this figure has been frankly admitted by the party directorate. The Fascist militia and the Italian bonus land forces are more than 500,000 in readiness for any eventuality—certainly the third largest, and probably the second largest, army in the world.

AMERICAN BUILT ANDES RAILWAY DROPS 1,000 FEET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 22.—A handful of engineers with several hundred workmen have been battling desperately for several days with a great landslide near Tamborague, which has swept over a section of track on the famous Central railway of Peru. The line was built by the American engineer, Henry H. Brooks, at a cost of $1,000,000 a foot barrier of the Peruvian Andes.

Breaking loose on an almost perpendicular mountain side at a point on the line 10,000 feet high, the landslide is estimated to have carried with it 500,000 tons of rocks and earth into a 1,000 foot abyss below the railway. The engineers working below are being subjected to a constant bombardment of metallic rocks, some of which weigh 1,500 pounds each.

By dynamiting from above the engineers are endeavoring to drive the huge earth mass down before running a new line across the debris.

Mrs. Marie Grevyn, 31, of Superior street, died last night at St. Mary's hospital from burns, incurred while working over a kitchen stove last Sunday.

WEALTHY MAN'S DAUGHTER HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE

Helen Neville, 21 years old, said to be the daughter of William Neville, wealthy Philadelphia publisher, was arrested in Pittsburgh last night on the complaint of C. F. Brooks, an advertising solicitor, 386 North Michigan avenue.

Chicago police requested Pittsburgh authorities to apprehend the girl as she passed through that city on route to New York after Mr. Brooks reported that Miss Neville had obtained $1,000 from him upon a purported order from her father. Mr. Brooks said he found Mr. Neville had not issued the order.

According to detectives, Miss Neville recently quarreled with her father. Florence, Theresa Johnson left Chicago for Pittsburgh last night to return to the Kinshillfield avenue station of the elevated railroad.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Anthony Alder, 79 years old, 1725 West 25th street, dropped dead, presumably from heart disease, last evening while on the platform of the Kinshillfield avenue station of the elevated railroad.

EX-GOVERNOR HARMON DIES IN OHIO—ONCE NEAR THE PRESIDENCY

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 22.—(AP)—John Harmon, distinguished Cincinnati attorney, who for years was a picturesque figure in the political life of Ohio and the nation, died unexpectedly at the Jewish hospital here today.

Mr. Harmon, who had been twice governor of Ohio, once attorney general of the United States, and several times a Democratic presidential possibility, celebrated his 81st birthday about three weeks ago.

When he went to the hospital, Feb. 12, he was supposed to be suffering from a minor ailment, but complications set in, resulting in death from uremic poisoning.

Mr. Harmon might have gone to the White House in place of Woodrow Wilson had it not been for a split in the Ohio delegation at the Democratic national convention in 1912. He survived a vote of ballots before his home state delegation split, resulting in his defeat.

The late Warren G. Harding was defeated by Mr. Harmon in 1910 for governor of Ohio.

Burial will be in Spring Grove cemetery here probably Thursday.

ILLINOIS MAN MURDERS WIFE, MOTHER OF 11

Chenoa, Ill., Feb. 22.—(UPI)—Accusing his wife of being untrue to him, George M. Brown, 45, shot and killed the mother of his eleven children at a neighbor's home here today and later surrendered.

Wife Must Quoted Maxine.

"Of all Washington's maxims, that last quoted is, 'To be prepared for war is one of the most foolish kinds of preparation.' " Gen. Summerall said.

From the beginning Washington constantly held that a regular army was indispensable, and his advice was never fully appreciated until we had suffered undue loss of life in the Bloody Indian wars and our armies, poorly equipped and ineffectually trained, had lost all but one of the important land battles of 1812.

"The world war brought the full realization of Washington's foresight. When others at first were slow to hold the line, we prepared. Over and over again we had cast our lot with the allies before United States troops were prepared to make even a local attack under their own leadership.

It was fully fifteen months before an appreciable number of American troops appeared in a major action.

Billions Are Expended.

"Lack of training caused the needless sacrifice of thousands of lives of the best of our youth. In the hysterical preparation for war after war had begun we expended billions of dollars.

The entire nation, every home and business, rendered the utmost of cooperation in that awful struggle for the preservation of liberty and national honor did we wish that we had heeded Washington's advice!"

RUM BALANCES ONTARIO BUDGET, BEHIND 20 YEARS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 22.—With profits from the sale of liquor, soon to be begun, Ontario will have a balanced budget for the first time in nearly two decades, K. D. Montieth, finance minister, said this morning.

Montieth said the budget will be balanced.

He said that the Ontario government expects a net revenue of $7,000,000 from liquor during the first year of government controlled sale. Of this sum, only $2,500,000 will figure in the books of the next fiscal year. Not only is the government counting on making ends meet and having a surplus but it also provides tax reductions of more than $2,000,000. Of this, $1,800,000 is saved to owners of motor cars in reduced license costs and $600,000 comes off the amusement tax.

Elmer Finds Vote Returns Clutter Up Air

But There Is Some Music of Which He Approves.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Radio was an instrument of civic utility yesterday by virtue of the nation-wide broadcast of President Coolidge's address to the Senate and house of representatives at noon, and the frequent broadcastings of election returns last evening through practically all Chicago stations.

There was one outstanding recital last evening—the solo recital by Pablo Casals, New York, through W-G-N, 8 to 9.

I wish every cellist, every violinist, even every solo singer who appears before a microphone had heard this. It was a model of how to do, and how not to do, far more than mere words can tell.

It would have been seen that if done with consummate art one may play or sing anything whatsoever, if musically good, be it ever so simple and familiar or ever so complex and unfamiliar.

This model: A perfect legato; a round tone; that at times without any vibrato whatsoever, and with stunning effect. Absolute pitch. Strength tone, on occasion, also tones delicate to the point of wistfulness. Ease of execution. Supreme technical mastery.

At the close of the "Mazurka" (Pepper), Miss Lillian Rehberg, the KTVN, Edison studio, cellist, who was a co-listener with me said, "I wish I could do it like that—I will some day."

The operatic concert, WJZ-KYV, 8 to 9, also loomed large by reason of the general excellence of the soloists—solo numbers figuring exclusively on this regular weekly operatic concert. The soloists: Julian Oliver, tenor; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto; Astrid Field, soprano, and Frederick Baar, basso.

The second act of "Martha," WMBB, 7 to 7:30, given by a male quartet under the direction of Preston Graves, had a pep and an atmosphere that made this of interest on the early programs.

FIND LABORERS' EARNINGS BELOW LIVING STANDARD

Unskilled or semi-skilled labor in Chicago commands in the majority of cases a wage below that necessary to maintain a family on a fair standard of living, according to the conclusions based on data compiled by the late Miss Leila Houghaling in her study of "The Income and Standard of Living of Unskilled Laborers in Chicago."

A review of this subject will be printed in the forthcoming issue of "The Service Review," to be published by the University of Chicago graduate school of social service administration.

In nearly two-thirds of the 467 families studied it was discovered that the income of the chief wage earners was insufficient to provide a living standard equal to that of the budget. Earnings of the group ranged from $600 a year to $2,500, with the majority making less than $1,500.

From 423 reports returned in full 17% earned less than $1,000, during 12%, $900 between $1,000 and $1,149, 20% between $1,200 and $1,499, 59% earned between $1,500 and $1,799, 18 between $1,800 and $1,989, and 7 between $2,000 and $2,500. The study covered two years, 1924 to 1926.

SON OF PACKER GETS START AS YARDS COWBOY

Edward Foss Wilson, 22 year old son of Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago packer, is learning his father's business from the ground up. After graduating from Princeton last June and taking a European trip, Edward donned high boots and a cowboy hat and started to work as a yard cattle puncher.

"At first they gave me the job of driving the cattle from the pens to the packing house," Edward said last night at his home, 4815 Woodlawn avenue. "Then they told me to follow the buyers around. Now I'm a buyer myself. I like the business and will stick to it."

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Wednesday, Feb. 23.)

(Standard Time Throughout.)

LISTENERS to the Arabian Nights entertainment tonight over W-G-N, The CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, will be transported by Aladdin to many delightful places. Aladdin, always the spokesman for the music of "The Arabian," which is played by the orchestra under direction of Henry Selinger, lends a fascinating oriental touch to the program. At the rub of his fragrant lamp, Aladdin first will bring before listeners a marionette theater with ten soldiers marching to the tune of "American Patrol." Other pieces to be heard in this setting are "A Little Story," "Flirtation," and "Entre Acte Value." Ireland will not be forgotten tonight, "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "Kilarney" being among the numbers to be given as the scene shifts to the Emerald Isle. Later there will be fanciful visits to the Hudson and the Nile. The sojourn tonight will be a dream come true.

The operatic concert, WJZ-KYV, 8 to 9, also loomed large by reason of the general excellence of the soloists—solo numbers figuring exclusively on this regular weekly operatic concert. The soloists: Julian Oliver, tenor; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto; Astrid Field, soprano, and Frederick Baar, basso.

The second act of "Martha," WMBB, 7 to 7:30, given by a male quartet under the direction of Preston Graves, had a pep and an atmosphere that made this of interest on the early programs.

During the W-G-N Woman's club period this afternoon at 3, Dr. C. Henry Mundt, president-elect of the Illinois Medical society, will be the speaker representing the American Society for the Control of Cancer. The musical part of the program will include popular songs by Jenne Deyo and Virginia Birch.

3 MORE DIE IN AUTO ACCIDENTS; TOTAL NOW IS 121

I Killed, 1 Hurt in Crash of Trolley, Taxi, Truck.

Two deaths in Cook county yesterday raised the fatality toll due to automobile accidents to 121 since Jan. 1.

Henry Kolze, 55 years old, saloonkeeper of River Grove, was killed when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train at Grand avenue and 115th Street.

Richard Broderick, 22 years old, of 125 West North Avenue, was killed and Peter Jakus, 31 years old, 1110 South Avenue, was injured when a taxicab, a surface car, and an ice truck crashed together at Madison street and Kedzie Avenue.

Broderick was riding with the driver of the truck. Jakus, driver of the cab, suffered a broken leg. The truck driver was not hurt.

When struck by an automobile as he was crossing Garfield Boulevard at Waukegan Avenue, an unidentified man about 40 years old, clad in workman's clothing, was fatally hurt. He died a few minutes later at the German Doctors' hospital. The driver speeded away.

Passenger James F. Hickey of 141 North Central Avenue suffered a sprained back when a cab in which he was riding collided with an automobile at Washington Boulevard and Western Avenue.

Four Chicago youths were injured when the automobile they occupied was struck by a bus near Laramie, Ind. They are Edward Kardon, 16, of South Elgin; George Selle, 16, of Holbrook, 1150 Washington Avenue; Edward Schiff, 1553 South Spaulding Avenue, and William Gordon, 1426 Washburn Avenue. Sidney Kardon, a fifth member of the party, was not injured. He was arrested by Laramie authorities, who asserted the automobile was stolen.

REBELS POUNCE ON MEXICANS IN HILLS; KILL MANY

BY JOHN CORNIN. (Chicago Tribune Free Service.)

[Copyright: 1927. By The Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 22.—Rebels in the state of Jalisco have again become very active. Reports today revealed that federal troops have fought several serious engagements recently in Jalisco as well as other states.

In a four hour battle with insurgents at San Bartolo, in the state of Guanajuato, on Sunday Gen. Francisco Bautista was killed and the Mexican federal forces were beaten back. Gen. Bautista, who had been wounded yesterday, was buried with considerable ceremony today. Maj. Ulloa and another officer, whose name was not reported, also were killed in the same battle.

The insurgents attacked the forces of

Gen. Bauista from both sides as they were passing along a road between two hills. The losses to the rebels were heavy.

Defeat Rebels in Two Fights.

At Fresnillo, state of Jalisco, yesterday federal forces battled with rebels who finally retreated to the hills. Another battle occurred at La Carmel, in the same state, in which the rebels did not get the worse of the encounter. Their leader, Benito Moral, mayor of the important town of Union de Tula, and several other Tula officials were killed.

Freigau First Athlete to Report.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
Telling some of the boys got carried away so far, so to the wrong town, there'll be about twenty-four Cubans of various nationalities in Chicago by tonight. That's the number given orders to report here today preparatory to steaming away tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. for several weeks of groaning and sweating in the Catalina Islands and training camp.

The first real man to appear yesterday in the person of Howard Freigau, the collegiate third baseman, who has been wintering down in Cuba. Having heard that a couple of Cubans were coveting his job, Mr. Freigau came along early so as to have time to assure anybody who cares to know that he is not going to give up his berth without a struggle. If Howard can say it with basic hits, he'll get shown on to the bench soon.

These Meal Tickets.

At the various potables check in at Cub headquarters this morning they will be assigned their sleeping bunks in the dormitory and will receive their meal tickets which will entitle them to eat as much as they can hold, but no more, at any place the train may happen to stop. Happily the schedule is so arranged that the stops occur at the hours when most athletes are hungry.

The departure from here will be over the Santa Fe, and the crew of pennants will eat heartily and travel merrily until they reach Los Angeles. Will be reached Sunday morning and the entire gang, augmented by the old timers so scheduled to report, will be hustled down to the seashore to catch the steamer for Wrigley Island retreat. If the Pacific happens to be restless some of the red headed performers may not have any time for lunches after disembarking. They have been Cubans in recent years because seafarers at the sight of a sailor's cap.

Lodash Solves Mystery.

When Hack Wilson arrives this evening, he will be sought out by Andy Loshaw, the uncommunicative trainer. It seems that last fall Andy was checking up on Pauline, and couldn't afford to let her out. During the winter Wilson mailed to Loshaw a picture showing the proud "Hack" driving a carriage owned by his wife across the front of which was written "Cubs." Loshaw reached the conclusion that the missing garment had been located. Hence Andy's name in have a private talk with the heavyweights now infesting this region, he seems pretty good.

Hanson is included merely as a trial horse, and if he beats Pauline, it will only prove that Pauline is better off. One peculiarity about this competition is that the only man in it who has shown any theatrical color thus far is one who used to be the dreadiest man among all the thousands of all

Dempsey, Doing Nothing Since He Did Nothing, Out of Race?

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Feb. 22.—The result may not have been worth the money and trouble involved, but, anyway, the field of nomination is open for the next fight with Gene Tunney who has now been reduced to a small, bleak group of fighters dominated by Jimmy Maloney of Boston, who fights with all the color and dash of debate conducted by Tunney.

The ranks are still a bit ragged, for there are two or three in the list of so-called eligibles who obviously do not belong, but who have managed to ease along in the competition one way or another. Jack Dempsey, of course, is one. Knute Hanson is another, and Paulino Uzcudun, who fights Hanson in the Garden Friday night, has all the outward characteristics of another impostor.

No Demand for Return Bout.
Dempsey did not do his best Tunney, there would be no point in rematching them, by whatever process he might prove his eligibility. If he didn't there would be all the more reason for avoiding a repetition. But on the basis of comparison with the other heavyweights now infesting this region, he seems pretty good.

Hanson is included merely as a trial horse, and if he beats Pauline, it will only prove that Pauline is better off. One peculiarity about this competition is that the only man in it who has shown any theatrical color thus far is one who used to be the dreadiest man among all the thousands of all Chicago Athletic association hockey players skated wild in the final period and in an overtime session to defeat the Illinois A. C., 4 to 3, in a senior amateur league game at the Coliseum last night. The Cherry Circle squad was trailing, 3 to 0, at the start of the third period, but tied the score in the final regular session and then scored a single goal in the overtime to gain the victory. The win put the C. A. A. squad in a tie for the league leader ship with the I. A. C., each team having won five and lost only one.

The contest was viewed as a benefit for the Marquette Foundation for the Chicago Shriners, which will be used to build a hospital for crippled children. More than $3,000 highly partisan fans attended the game.

Ties the Score.

Superior physical condition of its players won the C. A. A. For two periods the I. A. C. team, with far better passing and with a tighter defense, stopped the Cherry Circle team.

Starting with the third period the tide of the match swung completely to the C. A. A. side. With Doherty, Robertson, Clark and Lavelle leading the attack, the Cherry Circle team put the I. A. C. players off their feet. First Lavelle scored on a short shot from the side of the rink. Then Lavelle caged the puck after a drive up the ice and finally Clark took a pass from Lavelle and tied the score with only three minutes of the regular game time to go.

In the overtime period, it was a same story. The C. A. A. boys were skating wild and the tired I. A. C. fighters had to hold off defeat. Cann repeated the winning goal three minutes fifty seconds after the ten minute extra session started and after that it was a scramble of defensive hockey.

CONGER MAKESAMES STRONG IN TWO MILE RELAY

Iowa State Four Enters Illinois Games.

Among the great runners who will compete in the tenth annual indoor relay carnival of the University of Illinois at Champaign on Saturday is Ray Conger of Iowa State college. At the Kansas City A. C. meet last Saturday Conger ran the mile and two mile relays for his school by overcoming big leads on the final lap.

Conger holds four Missouri Valley conference championships. He can run two or three races on a creditable performance.

Ames Coached by Simpson.

Iowa State probably will start teams in the medley and two mile relays. This year's Ames team is coached by Robert Simpson, the former Missouri state who held world's hurdle records for years.

Michigan and Illinois have won the four mile relay on two occasions and either repeats Saturday it will win permanent possession of the Mike Malone trophy. Both teams will receive strenuous competition. Ohio State being particularly formidable. In Capt. Bevan, Wilcox, and Kennedy, Coach Frank Coddington has three of the best men in the middle weight class.

Illini Mile Team Favorite.

Illini mile relay team, composed of Miller, Hamlett, Orlowich, and Sittler, will go to the mark a favorite, although Iowa merits consideration. The Hawkeye quartet has won this event four out of five years. Coach George Bremerman has an excellent senior man in Cuhel, while the other members of the team probably will be Fawell, Phelps and Bevan.

Coaches will gather in the armory at Champaign at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoon to arrange for drawings in the dash, hurdles and individual events on the track.

PRINCETON, YALE LIFT BAN ON GAMES IN WEST

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 22.—[Special] Princeton and Yale have entered into a football agreement which embodies the agreement signed in 1916 between Harvard, Yale and Princeton with one important exception. That exception is that either Princeton or Yale, under the new agreement, may travel to the west for games.

President John Grier Hibben at the annual luncheon in the university dining halls, made known the new agreement and the choice of Dean Henry B. Peas of the department of mathematics to replace temporarily Dr. Charles W. Kennedy as chairman of the board of trustees. Dr. Kennedy, who had been chairman for the second term, substituted for the section forbidding western games in the following:

"No post season contests or contests for the purpose of settling sectional or other championships shall be permitted."

Traffic Flood Jams Western Outlet to Loop

By J. L. JENKINS.

Balmy breezes and sunshine yesterday put a new edge on the popular campaign for immediate traffic congestion relief of Chicago's crowded western business district.

Hundreds of cars, neglected through the weeks of cold weather, snow blockades and high water, appeared to jam the usual morning and evening rush hours to suffocation, and their drivers found traffic conditions to the west have not been improved since Indian summer made westbound trips insufferable.

Washington boulevard still stands as a narrow, bottle-necked city street which normally is expected to carry the bulk of automobile traffic from the loop to the west city limits. Jackson boulevard, which connects Washington with the river and its sluggish traffic current, still is the sole auxiliary artery for 40 per cent of all Chicago motor movement to and from the central business district.

Even pavements in Monroe and Dearborn streets still impede the use of these natural gateways to the loop, and parked trucks, vans and vegetable wagons in Randolph street block that wide and fairly well paved exit.

To the north and south spring drivers will find unimpeded going and fast service in the outer drives and the network of protected boulevards through both park systems developed by the Lincoln and Roosevelt boulevards, and these sections is called upon to carry the daily traffic volume that is forced into west side arteries, according to current vehicle counts. It is on the west, Chicago's immediate improvement is needed, and they are awaiting the drafting of an adequate emergency program for spring and summer construction work.

Pell Beats Morgan to Regain Racquets Crown

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP) Clarence C. Pell of New York, national amateur racquets champion from 1915 to 1926, trounced Hewitt Morgan of New York in straight sets, 15-14, 15-9, 15-7, to regain his title here today. Pell, who retired from competition last year, was invincible throughout the match.

Bob Off His Guard, but He Bags Rabbit

By BOB BECKER.

The unexpected appearance of a game bird or a game mammal when you are in the hunting field (especially at a time when you are doing something, like lighting up a "smoke") invariably results in a funny situation. Such was our experience the other day when, with Bill Hart and Doc Powell, we were hiking through the Mississippi bottoms behind a couple of birds.

We were walking slowly around a deserted Negre cabin, gun on shoulder and one hand fishing for a "smoke." Bill Hart was a few yards ahead and about to sit down on the porch of the cabin for a short rest. Suddenly a rabbit came out of nowhere and started around the corner of the house. Or, rather, the cottontail would have caused no disturbance, but Sisom, a big, husky, good-natured colored boy, through whose cotton fields we were walking, said, "Doctah, if you-all see a rabbit, Ah hopes you remembah to use youah gun." We had promised Sisom a rabbit, so that scamperin' cottontail stirred us into action.

We never did see Bill shoot. There was a bullet hole in the ground, the bullet having shot from the hip and then we saw a rabbit tearing around the corner of the house. We dropped matches

Personally,
I smoke
for pleasure!

ON THAT basis alone, I select the tobacco that gives me pleasure in the greatest measure. (I wasn't deliberately trying to make a rhyme.) That tobacco is Prince Albert... good old Prince Albert, known as The National Joy Smoke—and for good reason!

Have you never known the thrill of opening a tidy red tin of this fine old favorite and inhaling that wonderful fragrance? Have you never sat at one end of a pipe with P. A. at the other end and tasted that marvelous smoke? Then it's high time to start!

Buy yourself some Prince Albert today. Fill your pipe to the brim and light up. Notice how refreshingly cool it is, no matter how fast you feed it. Notice, too, that it is mild without sacrificing that full, rich body which you demand in a smoking tobacco.

I tell you in all sincerity: If you have never smoked Prince Albert, you simply don't know how good that old Jimmy-pipe can taste. No matter how satisfied you think you are, try a tin of Prince Albert. No friend ever gave you a straighter tip.

P. A. is sold everywhere in 10c, 15c, 20c, and half-pint sizes in handsome, polished crystal-glass humidi-ers with sponge-resistance top. And always with every bit of bite and perch removed by the Prince Albert process.

POINCARÉ BACKS PLAN TO PAY U. S. ANNUITY ON DEBT

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Feb. 22.—The payment of annuities on the war debts to Great Britain and the United States does not prejudice the eventual submission of the debt agreements to the French parliament, Premier Raymond Poincaré told Louis Malvy, in a letter which was read at a meeting of the chamber finance commission today. Under the Poincaré plan, France will pay the United States $30,000,000 this year.

Premier Poincaré won a technical victory when the committee refused to delay his action in making arrangements to London and Washington without waiting for a ratification of the debt accord. M. Vincent Auriol suggested examining all the documents exchanged with Winston Churchill, chancellor of the British exchequer, and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew S. Mellon beforehand, but this plan was rejected.

Parliament's Rights Not Infringed.
Premier Poincaré's letter, which pointed out that the debts are payable at sight, outlined how M. Churchill proposed to pay the first annuity, for a partial payment in view of the necessity of incorporating the receipts in the English budget, and again approached Premier Poincaré to continue the payments until parliament here takes action.

"We never contested the debts, but always proclaimed our intention of paying to our utmost capacity, and the fixation of these preliminary arrangements does not prejudice ratification, nor does it infringe on the rights of parliament," the premier said.

U. S. Considers Offer.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—The proposal of Premier Poincaré of France, to pay his country's installments on the French debt under the Washington funding accord before ratifying it will receive consideration at the hands of the American government, but whether acceptance is likely has not been indicated.

In some quarters it has been held that no authority existed for a refusal to accept payment on account. In other circles, however, it is contended that inasmuch as the debt agreement, which fixes the total of the debt with Britain, has not been ratified it would be inappropriate for the treasury to accept payments to cut down this unapproved total. Those inclined to such a view hold that any payment accepted in such a way should be so conditioned that it would apply on the funding agreement when that agreement is ratified, and otherwise on the actual total of the original debt.

There has been no official expression of views, however, on this phase of the situation.

BRITAIN ABOUT TO SEND RUSSIA A NEW PROTEST

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Great Britain is about to dispatch a new note to Moscow protesting against the communist propaganda activities in this country, well informed political circles say.

The note, it is understood, is already drafted. In the strongest language, it characterizes the activities of Red agents in Great Britain as an infringement of the Anglo-Soviet trade agreement. The note points out that these agents serve the soviet government itself and are not irresponsible communistic bodies.

Alleged soviet intrigues against British interests in China were said to have precipitated the sending of the note at this time, although there has been a "clearing out of Reds" movement in a large section of the cabinet since the general strike.

Jugo-Slavia Says Reports of Quakes Exaggerated

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—

Somebody has been spreading exaggerated reports about the earthquakes in Herzegovina, in the opinion of the Jugo-Slav government, in order to intimidate and terrify. In a statement today, the Jugo-Slav government said it had been so advised from Belgrade, but did not explain to what reports it referred, or indicate how much damage actually resulted from the earth- quakes.

Jury Appears Deadlocked in U. S. Stolen Goods Case

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—

The fate of Jacob Davis and Morris Barnett, charged with conspiracy and receiving stolen interstate shipments, will be known today when the jury which has been deliberating their case since Monday evening is called into court. The jurors seemed deadlocked yesterday. Federal Judge J. Foster Symes instructed the jury to return a sealed verdict in case they reach a decision.

The following information is contained in a letter to us from Mr. S. Davies Warfield, President of the Corporation:

THE SEABOARD AIR LINE RAILWAY SYSTEM

The Seaboard Air Line Railway System consists of 4,260 miles of owned and leased railroad directly operated by Seaboard Air Line Railway Company. In addition, approximately 290 miles belonging to subsidiary companies are separately operated. The lines of the System extend from Richmond, Va., through parts of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida, with lines reaching substantially all of the important cities of the south Atlantic seaboard, including the capitals of six southern states, and such important ports as Norfolk, Va., Wilmington, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Savannah, Ga., Jacksonville and Tampa, Fla. The territory traversed by the Seaboard System is one of the most productive sections of the South, including the citrus fruit and vegetable areas, cotton and tobacco districts and also many important manufacturing sections. Since the extension of the main line of the Seaboard System to West Palm Beach (Palm Beach) and Miami, Fla., it is the only railway system operating through trains over its own rails from Richmond to Miami and other points on the lower east coast of Florida.

EARNINGS
Results of operations of Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, for the four years ended December 31, 1926, have been as follows:

ISSUANCE AUTHORIZED BY THE RAILROAD COMMISSION OF WISCONSIN

The following information is summarized from a letter to us from Mr. R. B. Brown, President of the Company:

BUSINESS

Milwaukee Gas Light Company, organized under the laws of Wisconsin in 1852, does all the gas business in Milwaukee, Wis., an important railway, commercial and manufacturing center and the thirteenth city in size in the United States, having a population, according to the 1920 Federal Census, of 457,147. The present estimated population is 517,000, a gain of 13% over the 1920 figure.

SECURITY

From and after May 1, 1927, this issue of bonds will constitute the Company's only funded debt and will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all physical properties, rights, and franchises of the Company, now owned or hereafter acquired, except the Company's general office plant in Milwaukee and the tar plant in North Milwaukee upon the satisfaction and release on said date, May 1, 1927, of the Company's outstanding mortgage securing $9,097,000 of First Mortgage Twenty-Five Year 4 1/2% Gold Bonds maturing on that date; funds for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds maturing on May 1, 1927, will be deposited with Central Union Trust Company of New York prior to the issuance of the bonds due March 1, 1927, hereinbefore described. The sound value of the properties to be mortgaged is largely in excess of the total amount of the bonds to be outstanding.

EARNINGS

The income account of Milwaukee Gas Light Company for the twelve months periods ended December 31, 1926, and December 31, 1925, is as follows:

	12 mos. ended Dec. 31, 1925	12 mos. ended Dec. 31, 1926
Gross Earnings.....	$5,084,904.88	$5,544,512.81
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes.....	3,023,108.41	3,259,972.57
Net Earnings Available for Interest and Depreciation.....	2,061,796.47	2,289,540.27
Annual Interest Requirements of this Issue.....		517,000.00

Net earnings for the 12 months ended December 31, 1926, as given above, were equivalent to 4.42 times annual interest requirements of these bonds. These net earnings were obtained under rates which are among the lowest for manufactured gas in the United States.

FRANCHISE SITUATION

The Company, in the opinion of counsel, has a perpetual charter from the State of Wisconsin, and a valid franchise or permit of unlimited duration covering the conduct of its gas business.

ADDITIONAL BONDS

Additional bonds of any series may be issued from time to time for 80% of the net amount, as defined in the mortgage, of additional property, as defined in the mortgage, purchased, constructed or otherwise acquired subsequent to January 1, 1928. Additional bonds of any series may also be issued from time to time for the acquisition or retirement of bonds of any series issued under this mortgage subject to the limitations set forth in the mortgage.

MANAGEMENT

The operation of Milwaukee Gas Light Company is under the supervision of its Board of Directors substantially all of whom are residents of the City of Milwaukee and familiar with the needs and opportunities of the community. The American Light & Traction Company, one of the largest public utility holding companies in the country, owns more than 97% of the outstanding Common Stock of Milwaukee Gas Light Company.

We offer these bonds when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to approval of counsel, Messrs. Miller, Mack & Fairchild, of Milwaukee, for the Company and Messrs. Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett of New York, for the Bankers. It is expected that temporary bonds exchangeable for definitive bonds will be ready for delivery on or about March 8, 1927.

Price: 93.75 and accrued interest, to yield about 4.85%.

ANALYSIS SHEET
FOR THE DETERMINATION OF
INVESTMENT POLICY AND POSITION

While designed primarily for bond holdings, this chart is also applicable where other forms of investment are to be considered in determining the general balance of the whole list and the fitness of the individual items.

Are Your Bond Holdings Properly Balanced?

This chart will tell you

INVESTORS who have no policy to guide their selection of bonds are apt to accumulate holdings that are lacking in diversification and balance. The bonds may be sound enough, but not well chosen. Holdings should be analyzed from time to time to show the structure.

Many investors are hesitant about submitting their bond holdings to others for analysis. That is not necessary for determining how they are diversified as to type and locality—what the maturities are—how income is distributed over the year—how present market prices compare with prices paid, etc.

Hog prices dropped to new low levels under stress of another liberal run yesterday, general average price at $11.50 standing lowest since Dec. 30, against $12.25 about two weeks ago. Outsliders purchased freely on the 10@25 break at the opening, but failed to check the downward swing of the market, which closed on the bottom, with 15,000 estimated left in the pens.

Bulk of medium and weighty butcher hogs sold within a range of $11.30@11.50, with most 200@210 pounds at $11.50@11.65. Fancy 150 lb averages topped the list at $11.90. Large local packers held back for additional purchases after small packers, shippers, and yard traders were through buying, filling moderate droves of medium weight hogs about $11.25 later in the afternoon. Hog receipts, first 100 of day of this week total 99,500, against 69,315 a week earlier, the increasing number of corn used as feed. Monday's shipments at 17,737 exceeded expectations. Outsliders took 14,000 yesterday.

Well finished weighty beavers are coming to market, the medium supply eligible to about $11.50 below the class leaders. Quality, however, graded above Monday, more steers selling at $12.00 and above than initial day of the week, despite the drop in total receipts. Arrivals at 10,000 were as small as any Tuesday of the year. Prime 1,477 lb cattle to Armour reached $12.90, the peak, within 20¢ of the year's top and 75¢ above Monday's limit, when top noted. Steers above $12.00, average $11.75. Yearlings advanced 10@25, choice 96 lbs brought $11.35. Strength appeared in the calf market, fancy weaners reaching $14.50. Butcher stock showed little change. Stockers and feeders not fair demand at prevailing quotations.

Lamb Basis $14.00.

First $14.00 lambs of the year appeared on a 10@25c bulge of the market, this price going back to Nov. 26 for an equal.

Supplies are falling short of expectations at all points, the total at seven big western markets thus far this year at $1,525,000 being 100,000 behind a year ago.

First $14.00 lambs of the year appeared on a 10@25c bulge of the market, this price going back to Nov. 26 for an equal.

Supplies are falling short of expectations at all points, the total at seven big western markets thus far this year at $1,525,000 being 100,000 behind a year ago.

Arrivals at 10,000 were as small as any Tuesday of the year. Prime 1,477 lb cattle to Armour reached $12.90, the peak, within 20¢ of the year's top and 75¢ above Monday's limit, when top noted.

Hog receipts, first 100 of day of this week total 99,500, against 69,315 a week earlier, the increasing number of corn used as feed. Monday's shipments at 17,737 exceeded expectations.

Outsliders took 14,000 yesterday.

Well finished weighty beavers are coming to market, the medium supply eligible to about $11.50 below the class leaders. Quality, however, graded above Monday, more steers selling at $12.00 and above than initial day of the week, despite the drop in total receipts. ### NEW TYPE OF BUSINESS CHIEF NOW DEVELOPING

BY HARPER LEECH.

What do the managers of American industry and commerce get for running the big machine? How are they paid?

Live questions, truly. In these days when we hear so much of the divorce of ownership and management, few questions are more interesting, now more important.

But from the nature of things little is known and less is in print about it.

There is a voluminous literature and plenty of figures on profit sharing with employees, wages, piece work, bonuses for production managers, incentives for salesmen—but little except some general observations and a few guesses about the compensation of the officers and "key men" of industry.

Big executives of great corporations do not know a great deal more than the general public. Just now many of them are beginning to investigate what other corporations are doing in the way of management compensation. It is not too much to expect that in a few years some general principles of management compensation will be worked out, and become generally applicable.

Nothing of the sort has happened yet. Nearly every corporation which has gone beyond the primitive in this matter has been an independent experimenter. Of course some general trends and quite usual practices have evolved from the general nature of the problems, which had to be solved.

The evolution of the American corporation from the status of a personal or family property to a dynamic machine, the value of which largely consists of intangibles and its status of a going concern, has come so rapidly that it is not remarkable that the compensation of management is on an empirical basis to date. The functions of management have been changing and expanding so rapidly that there has been neither time nor occasion for the managers of great corporations to develop any fixed attitudes on the subject of their pay.

May we look forward to the development of a sort of traditionalism among the new management class, who are the heirs of the traditions of absentees or—whether the heirs of founding personalities or the general public, which is so often invited to buy a corporation, when its founding family passes out of the principal executive role, or the business grows so great that such ownership and control, either or both, becomes impossible?

The answer is no. The really vital principle of our present incorporated capitalism is that the selection of its managers is on a competitive basis, and must remain so to keep the system truly alive. That militates against a trade union or bureaucratic cast of mind.

What is happening on the contrary is the gradual evolution of the salaried manager, the participating partner, compensated largely on a basis contingent upon net earnings.

This TRIBUNE has acquired some exclusive information on this subject which can be presented in a general way without revealing any business secrets. In the next few days these facts will be presented here.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.
The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:
Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and North Dakota, generally fair. Wednesday and Thursday: moderate temperature. Ohio Fair Wednesday and Thursday: not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Mostly fair Wednesday and probably Thursday: moderate temperature.

Upper Michigan—Mostly unsettled Wednesday, probably rain in north portion; Thursday mostly fair; moderate temperature.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Spring is rose planting time in this section. Roses that are offered for sale by reliable nurserymen in this region will usually withstand the severe and changeable winters if properly protected.

In gardens within a few miles of Lake Michigan there is a sandy soil deal with. In most cases sandy soil and roses do not get along well together. Vols, a rose specialist at the Iowa agricultural college, says sandy soil should be avoided for the most part in planting roses, except where the grower knows that the particular type he is planting will thrive in sandy soil. Plant roses in well prepared beds, where they will not be injured by other plants.

It is the experience of those shown that the best time to plant roses is early spring, and Vols advises setting them out in March rather than April. Set the plants two or three inches deeper than they stood in the nursery and vary the distance according to the size of the bush, allowing plenty of space for spread.

Vols says the secret of the size and quality of blossoms lies in the thinning of the bush. "The first pruning should be made while the plants are still dormant and should be quite severe.

The principle to remember in pruning climbers is that next year's blooms are formed on the canes of the present year," he says.

In protecting roses against insects, diseases, and other pests, Vols demands the use of powders, soaps, and mulch. He suggests using powdered sulfur for the control of diseases, arsenate of lead spray as a means of baiting insects, and a straw mulch for winter protection.

CRUDE OIL PRICES CUT.
DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Oil above 51.0 gravity was cut 39 cents a barrel in a schedule of prices paid for crude in Oklahoma and Kansas, and today the Macmillan Petroleum company, below 28 gravity was unchanged in price and intermediate gravity oils were cut in proportion.

WASHINGTON NOTES

(By the Associated Press)

A bill to create a division of criminal identification in the department of justice was introduced by Chairman Graham of the house judiciary committee. It would collect and classify data on criminals and exchange records with state and city authorities.

The senate judiciary committee reported favorably on a bill which would require a witness to give evidence that might tend to incriminate him, but would exempt him from prosecution on his testimony.

A resolution to take immediate action on the bill for government loans to world war veterans, which encountered a filibuster last night, was made in the senate. Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, offered a resolution proposing that the bill be considered for one month.

A minimum disability rate of $10 monthly would be established for all persons on the pension rolls under a bill introduced by Senator Watson (Rep., Ind.).

A bill proposing the time for beginning and completing a bridge over the Wabash river at Mount Carmel, Ill., was extended one and three years respectively was introduced by Senator DeLong.

The congressional medal of honor would be awarded to Lincoln Ellsworth in recognition of "courage, sagacity, and perseverance" in his polar flight with Roald Amundsen, as approved by the senate commerce committee.

SLIDELL'S DAUGHTER DIES.
PARIS, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The death of Baroness Frederick d'Erlanger, 84, is announced. She was a daughter of John Slidell, confederate commissioner to France.

What bonds should you buy?

We see along daily the hardship and worry which results from buying the wrong types of good bonds. Business men, with opportunities lost because they can not readily raise money on their bonds. Widows, with estate affairs, who hold "businessmen's bonds." Estates swallowed up by inheritance taxes because of wrong investments. Your choice of good bonds should depend on two things:

1. Yourself

How old are you? What is the source and size of your income and your savings? What is your investment? Are you married? How many dependents? What are your tax and other liabilities? Do you own your home? Do you travel? Where is your legal residence? What are your prospects and plans? Have you made your will? Created a trust fund?

Why are you saving? To buy something? To assume a comfortable old age? To provide for your family? To protect a business? To meet some contingency?

Personal questions—yes. But, before suggesting the bonds you ought to buy, the investment specialist, not the financial or legal specialist, must have facts for diagnosis.

2. Your present investments

It is quite possible that some of your present holdings are not the best.

All the securities you now own should fit into a personal investment program, based not only upon the financial and other industry but also upon your own plans and contingencies and other personal factors.

Your personal holdings, as a personal matter, too, but the insurance specialist cannot intelligently advise you on new purchases unless he knows what you already own.

Our Offer

We offer you the help of our investment department in selecting the right bonds from the best bonds the financial world affords.

Our offer is easy to accept. It entails no obligation.

Simply send for an Equitable Investment Memorandum. Turn to page seven. Put down the facts it calls for and return it to us. The information will be held entirely confidential and, with it as a basis, we will plan a personal investment program designed to meet your specific needs and plans.

The City of Stone

MANY of the great cities of the ancients were built largely of stone. Great enduring blocks of stone, rough hewn with the crudest of implements, proved ideal for construction purposes.

Today, if the thousands of well satisfied customers of H. O. Stone & Co. could be brought together they would form a modern "City of Stone" composed of people of all classes, trades and professions. The inhabitants would have one trait in common—ambition to advance financially and the knowledge of the most direct and the safest way to achieve this ambition.

For many years H. O. Stone & Co., with the co-operation of thousands of conservative investors, have been closely identified with the development of Chicago. The sound bonds marketed by this Company have aided in financing millions of dollars worth of building, and the values underlying these bonds are constantly growing.

To be one of the residents of this modern "City of Stone" is an indication of investment discrimination and wise money management.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

Starring Dulcie Jayne

By VIRGINIA TRACY.

SYNOPSIS.
Lyman March, employed in the scenario department of Hertog's Perfection Motion Picture Studio at Fort Lee, N. J., learns with sorrow that Henry Horner, the head of the studio, has been fired by Lyman Hertog, son of the owner of the studio. Every one in the studio, but Dulcie seems to prefer her director, Daniel K. Leland.

Mr. Hertog suggests to Lyman that they feature Leland as an actor as well as a director, and this causes a quarrel between father and son. Old Mr. Hertog suffers a stroke of apoplexy as a result and Lyman is left in charge of the studio.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.
A MESSAGE FROM HENRY.

Observing that both his listeners blinked, Lyman explained, "You remember that deaf-and-dumb servitor made such a hit in some costume picture? I think a crazy kind of a figure like that, sort of desperate looking and related to her since childhood, is always a good background for a young girl. I want it to be a woman though—could be a refugee from any foreign country the public isn't sick to death of. Ever hear of the Isle of Cypress?"

Mr. Leach attempting no denial, Lyman passed on to his problem. "I don't find out about any Cy-pree-an costume to see how it'll go with Dulcie's taste. But I guess the art department can fix up something pictoresque—"

He continued to speak, and Mr. Leach continued to register listening, while noting how soon he could begin to ooz propaganda for the producing of a new version of "Under Two Flags." Miss Jacobs, having found that there was no record of Dulcie Jayne's having refused "Briar Rose," made an errand for herself to the scenario department, which she found in quite a flutter; it had received a day letter from Mr. Horner.

By Mac Thine.
Good Morning!

Also—good picture, folks! The best Buck Jones has had in a long time. The story is about a man who goes to war—because he loves his horse, Eagle, you see, is commanded for the artillery by the U. S. A.

He acts as a cattle rancher and that's where some tears start, too.

For here you see the cowboys saying good-by to their faithful steeds, which are on the verge of transportation "over there, over there."

Gray horses are not being taken, it seems, and the boys are just telling the story how lucky he is that his beloved Eagle is a gray when doing duty as a postmaster and says, "We'll take THAT horse for an officer's mount!" And the fate of Eagle is sealed.

Which is when Buck decides he'll be a soldier. He enlists, and somewhere in France begins a search that finally leads to the discovery of his lost love.

Gray horses are not being taken, it seems, and the boys are just telling the story how lucky he is that his beloved Eagle is a gray when doing duty as a postmaster and says, "We'll take THAT horse for an officer's mount!" And the fate of Eagle is sealed.

Play Safe is absurd, but it's good fun. And really, mighty exciting. If ever a funny fellow worked for his money, Monty Banks is the boy.

See you tomorrow!

Four Nuns Celebrate
50 Years in Service

Half a century of religious life as Sisters of Mercy, which they entered on the same date, was celebrated yesterday at St. Xavier's mother house, 49th street and Cottage Grove avenue, by four Chicago nuns. On Feb. 23, 1877, Sister Anthony, nee Grant; Sister Catherine, nee Nolan, and Sister Thomas, nee Bergman, entered the novitiate of the Catholic order, taking their first vows together.

But the honors really go to Buck's horse. We extend congratulations to Eagle! Hay! Hay!

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Hickory Nut Cake.

When a recipe heretofore printed by me gets a commendation it usually gets also a reprinting. When the following letter came I had no hopes of answering it satisfactorily.

"I wonder if it would be possible, and not too much trouble, to go back through your files to find a recipe I have lost. This recipe was printed about thirteen years ago and was called hickory nut cake. As I recall, it called for one-fourth pound of butter and used powdered sugar instead of granulated. It made rather a large cake. This was a wonderful recipe and quite a favorite of my husband's. I hope you will be kind enough to print it."

The quarter pound is twice too much butter, and we used granulated sugar, but since the hard sauce method of combining the sugar and butter was recommended, the idea may have prevalized that powdered sugar was best.

We think not. But here are the proportions: One-fourth cup of butter, one cup of sugar, one cup of milk, two egg whites, one-half cup of flour, one-half cup of salt, one-half teaspoon of salt for one teaspoon that was used because of the nuts requiring some, one teaspoon of baking powder, one-half cup of coarsely chopped hickory nuts.

Cream the butter thoroughly, work in the sugar add milk and work, add the flour sifted with the salt and baking powder, gradually. When this batter is ideally smooth and fine add to it the freshly cracked hickory nuts and finally fold in the egg whites, stiff, and add flavor. Bake in a paper tin.

It is easier to crack hickory nuts if they are heated in the oven. It is not easy work to get these nut meats and great care must be taken not to get bits of shells with the meats.

Of course the formula of this cake is old, quite old, but we advise less gather in various fashions and in one way has been called "Five Minute Cake," but use two whole eggs and only two-thirds of a cup of milk. Put flour, sugar and butter into a mixing sheet and ice.

Guarding a Schoolgirl Complexion

By VILMA BANKY

Use only true complexion soap
—in this way

The secret of a good complexion rests largely on two factors: Keeping the skin clean, the pores open and using ONLY a true complexion soap ever on the face.

A soap may be excellent for a thousand purposes, yet be too harsh for the skin. Good complexions are often thus imperiled.

Hence, largely on expert advice, thousands use Palmolive Soap. A soap made solely for ONE purpose—to safeguard good complexions. A beauty soap you know is safe to use.

Wash your face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy lather with warm water, then rinse off.

Do this regularly and persistently in the evening.

That rule is credited with many known. Use powder, rouge, makeup all you wish. But never let them remain over night. Follow these then note the difference in your skin.

Get Palmolive today. But it is GENUINE Palmolive. Come

Scopes represented as of olive and palm oils without the Palmolive name are usually crude imitation. So take care. The Palmolive Soap Co., Chicago, U.S.A. (Advertisement)

Hard to Entertain the Boy Friend in Family Living Room

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"We have just a tiny living room and when my boy friend comes to visit me I have to crowd in with the whole family in the small room. The family assembles nightly in this room before my friend arrives and they stay until he goes. At times I am lucky even to get into the corner of the room."

"I have had to argue my mother into giving the disadvantage of not having some time alone with the boy so that I could get to know him better, but she gets angry. I have asked my married sister's help and also my single sister, who has no beau, but my mother forbids them all to stay out of the room."

"Every time I bring some one home I dread it, knowing the circumstances. The family feels it's a sort of exhibition and sit in a room—Desperate."

The great outstanding tragedy of American homes today is the one small room into which everybody has to crowd. Either crowd in or go to bed. It is not only bad for the matrimonial prospects of the younger generation, but it is equally hard on the nerves of the older. Some time ago I remember reading statistics collected by the National Association which showed that a much lower percentage of divorces occur among home owners who allow themselves sufficient space in their home building plans to get out from under the feet of each other when they feel the need of breathing space.

The confusion that follows this same daim box system of living takes a toll the magnitude of which is hard to comprehend in actual figures. But the housing conditions what they are and wretchedly satisfied only responsible for the令人感到不适的 atmosphere. I don't know what the remedy is, nor if there is one.

Desperate's plight is one thousands of young women face. They meet a young man who cannot afford to take them out often and without a congenial home to turn to, it is between evening out, they stand every chance of losing the young man's interest. Those of an older generation who harp upon the gradation tendencies of the younger, forget this feature injected by modern housing conditions. When they talk regretfully of the wholesome home pleasures of their day being ignored by the young folks of today for jazz palaces and joyrides, they fail to realize that the boy and girl are forced to leave the overwrought if they want to have a few words alone.

There is no estimating the number of young women who have been driven to undesirable haunts because there was no desirable home to bring boy friends to. It is something that mothers might do something about, followed by some planning on how to help daughter make and keep nice friendships.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

To Win Them Over.
Dear Miss Blake: I am 17, but I am not permitted to go out with fellows. Once in a while I go out on the sly. Do you think my parents are justified in keeping me tied down like this? No matter what I do, it is always wrong.

There is not justified in God's treatment of you, Lonesome. You must have some pleasures and friends. Remind your parents of their younger days and see if you can't win them over.

Harmless Ways of Making Blonde Hair Stay Blonde

Erin in Etiquette.

"Please tell me what to do to make my hair a lighter than dishwater color. It is long, naturally curly, and somewhat wavy. I have been in the habit of using lemon after a shampoo, but it does not keep my hair from getting darker. I would like to bleach it just enough to make it look blonde, as I have a naturally fair complexion. Please tell me of something harmless that can be used after each shampoo for an unlimited time without danger. Seventeen."

You can make a camomile tea preparation that will do the trick. Get me recently by an expert in hair work. Take a handful of the tea leaves and steep them in a pint of water to which is added a pinch of borax. Strain and use this as a rinse after the hair is thoroughly washed. To persuade girls away from the full peroxide bleach which so many blonde girls are tempted to indulge in when the hair begins to get darker, she adds instead of the usual a few drops of peroxide. The drying effect of the peroxide is offset by the camomile.

The peroxide is added after the tea leaves have been steeped and strained. My authority tells me, too, that the camomile tea is good for the hair. The recommendations from experience that the best way of applying it for oily hair is to let the hair dry after the shampoo, then take it in strands, and with cotton dipped in the tea rub the hair and scalp with the preparation.

Egg shampoos are good for preserving the blonde color. Four eggs beat up with a few drops of oil and a little water added. The hair is wet and the egg preparation takes the place of soap for lathering and cleansing.

The mineral rinse, while recommended usually as a preservative of the light tints, is not as satisfactory as it claims purport. Hundreds of girls and women have reported directly to me their dissatisfaction with it.

Of course, the years do take toll of the lovely washability of color that hair has, childhood. No matter what precautions are taken it rarely holds over into the twenties.

But shampooing with a good pure soap and rinsing most carefully, with an occasional drying in the sun are the only ways to keep the earlier color, except for such local treatment as is recommended.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown tinge," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; known them by their olive color. Olive Tablets are smart and almost as durable as an animated sea shell.

As for costs, should you wish something different from an ensemble such as we show above, yet are perfectly within style limits when you select one of Turkish toweling. Imports in this material showing printed patterns are smart and almost as durable as the backwater itself.

G. J. M.: COLD CREAM WILL soften the skin and render your lips less susceptible to chapping. Very often cold sores are fever blisters due to a disturbance of the digestive tract.

Rabbi Stephen Wise Again Heads Jewish Congress

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—Rabbi Stephen Wise of New York has been reelected president of the American Jewish congress. Seven vice presidents also have been chosen, including Justice Julian Laskin, Louis Lipsky, Mrs. Samuel Dr. A. O. Ronge, and Carl Sherman, all of New York, and Mrs. Archibald Silberman of Providence, R. I.

Six year old Betty sat in a car with her mother and greatly admired two bright, pretty high school girls sitting near her, laughing and chatting.

Turning to her mother Betty remarked, "Mother, aren't those girls becoming to them?" A. B.

Uncle John walked into the sunroom as Richard sat on the floor adjusting his mechanical toys.

"Well, Dick, you're a good boy this morning, I hope," said the uncle, cheerily.

"I don't know, Uncle John," answered the boy doubtfully. "There's half an hour yet."

Dick looked at the clock and saw that it was just half past eleven.

Elizabeth Arden's Venetian Toilet Preparations are on sale at the smart shops

Many women want to be delicate to be and to be more popular than in the past. Doctors know who. Do so now. They call this cause again.

To prevent dangerous body aches and bad breath you must receive a course. The course is deep-seated. Frankly, in the colon. Some time makes many cases of constipation. The waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains is not broken down, it passes the peristole. It takes the bowels. Nature is signaling her need of a little colon.

Colon works wonder in one's appearance, as the face, the skin, the muscles and even the complexion are most improved and look bright. Teeth white. The tongue is kept continuously bathed in an antiseptic of proved germicidal power. Yet Formamint is absolutely harmless.

G. O. P. Picks Thompson for Race with Dever—Police Disarm Gunmen—Coolidge Talks to World of Washington

RUMORS OF PARIS DIVORCE PLAN REVIVED. Paris heard again yesterday that Mrs. Adele Rosenwald Deutsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, might sue Armand Deutsch.

[Story on page 1.]

[Story on page 5.]

[Story on page 4.]

HOPES TO BE WORLD CHAMP. Sergt. L. Lach, U. S. M. C., Chicago, rifle expert, who will compete at Quantico for right to go to Rome for world contest.

FOE OF DRY LAW. Nicholas Murray Butler here to speak.

POLICE RAID SHACK, SEEKING STOLEN BALLOT BOXES. Capt. John Stege and his men searching at 48th and Wood streets. Though two suspects were arrested, the boxes, taken from a precinct in the 13th ward, were not recovered.

[Tribune Photo.]

P. & A. Photo: Transmitted Over A. T. & T. Wires. PRESIDENT COOLIDGE TALKS TO AMERICA ABOUT WASHINGTON. Scene in the house of representatives yesterday as the President spoke to the assembled congress, members of the Supreme court, and the diplomatic corps. Millions, listening by radio heard the President say that without Washington there would have been no United States.
